Big Four Meeting Risk Told

U.S. Reveals Ike Was Aware Of War Danger

WASHINGTON (INS)—The State Department revealed Thursday night that President Eisenhower went to the summit meeting in Geneva last July fully aware that failure would increase the danger of war.

The revelation was made in the introduction of an 88-page pamphlet in which all public statements at the summit meeting were published.

The introduction told of the considerations of Mr. Eisenhower and Secretary of State John Foster Dulles before they agreed to the idea of a meeting of the chiefs of government of Britain, France, Russia and the United States.

The State Department document said:

". . .It was clear that such a meeting could not be expected by itself to find ready solutions to such major and long standing problems as German reunification or the limitation of world armaments.

Patient Efforts

"Even with the maximum of good will, these stubborn problems could only be resolved by patient and sustained efforts. There was thus a risk that great hopes might be aroused which could not be realized.

"In that event the participants might face the dilemma of admitting failure, which would make war more likely, or of concealing their differences by ambiguous words, which would create a dangerous illusion."

The State Department said "this aspect of the problem had been considered at length by President Eisenhower and Secretary Dulles" and that they tried to lessen the danger by clearly limiting the scope of the summit meeting through the wording of the invitation sent to Russia.

The documents showed that President Eisenhower went out of his way to assure the Russians that they had nothing to fear from a United Germany as long as it was tied to NATO.

He said: "Let us draw Germany into such a position that she would not be a prey to a Hitler, a dissatisfied, unhappy nation suffering from an inferiority complex, but one which could play a respectable part in its own defense, but which could not gain the power to attack."

He told the Russians that the NATO treaty provisions make it "impossible" for any nation in NATO to break the peace. And he added "the United States is a fairly important member of NATO, and I can assure you that under no circumstances is the United States ever going to be a party to aggressive war — against any nation."

The President stressed that there was security implicit in a banding together of the military powers of a group of nations.

—'Optimistic' Briefing—

Congress Pledges Full Support To Sec. Dulles

Big 4 Meet Strategy Outlined For GOP, Demo Leaders

WASHINGTON (INS) — Congressional leaders Thursday pledged their full support to Secretary of State John Foster Dulles at a "cautiously optimistic" briefing on next week's Geneva conference.

Dulles reviewed strategy for the Big Four foreign ministers' meeting at a two-hour meeting with 14 legislative leaders and won statements of support from both Republicans and Democrats.

It also was announced that Defense Secretary Charles E. Wilson and Presidential Disarmament Advisor Harold E. Stassen will accompany Dulles to the conference.

The U.S. delegation also includes State Department Counsellor Douglas MacArthur II, U.S. Ambassador to Russia Charles E. Bohlen and other top State and Defense Department officials.

Dulles was assured at his meeting with the congressional leaders that the entire Congress and the nation would support his views on Geneva.

'Western Unity'

Sen. Thomas Hennings (D-Mo) told newsmen that there is "complete Western unity" as the U.S., Britain and France approach next week's sessions with Soviet Foreign Minister V. M. Molotov.

Senate Foreign Relations Chairman Walter F. George (D-Ga) indicated that a reasonable optimism was emphasized at the session, saying "I'm always hopeful."

Later at a news conference, George declared: "I believe we have the greatest opportunity of this century to do something for stability of the world if we have the courage to grasp it."

He said Dulles reported that President Eisenhower is "very vitally concerned and very keenly alert" to the problems at Geneva.

A 'Success'

He said Mr. Eisenhower sent his respects and wishes that Congress could "co-operate to make the conference a success."

Rep. Charles Halleck (R-Ind), said the briefing was "illuminating, interesting and informative," adding: "I have high hopes for Geneva."

Sen. Styles Bridges (R-NH), Senate GOP policy chief, said after the briefing: "He was cautiously optimistic. He stressed that we should proceed with slow steps, citing the old Chinese proverb about taking one step at a time."

Rep. Clarence Cannon (D-Mo), House Appropriations chairman, said of the Geneva approach: "It's absolutely bi-partisan. It can be supported by all groups in Congress and he has our best wishes. I am most hopeful."

'Quite Hopeful'

LONDON (AP) — Deputy Prime Minister Keith J. Holyoake of New Zealand arrived here Thursday from Moscow and said Soviet leaders were "quite hopeful" about next week's Geneva conference of the Big Four foreign ministers.

Holyoake told reporters at London Airport he had a "long and frank conversation" with Communist Party Secretary Nikita Khrushchev near Yalta in the Crimea, where he is vacationing.

"I gathered he was quite hopeful that probably the talks would be fruitful of further strides along the road to peace," Holyoake said. He added that Foreign Minister V. M. Molotov spoke in much the same vein.

Violation Increase Is Slight

Board's Figures Contradict Governor

By ARCH DONOVAN
Star Staff Writer

The office of the Pardon and Parole Board of which Gov. Victor Anderson is chairman at the request of The Lincoln Star Thursday checked records on the number of parole violations reported to the office as compared with similar periods last year.

The information was requested following statements by the governor at the October hearings on clemency pleas, that there had been a big increase in parole violations in recent months. The records did not bear out this statement.

However, the board denied every one of the 15 applications from Penitentiary inmates, although Board members did not state whether it was because of violations by past parolees.

'Got Up Tough'

The governor had told inmates at the time of their hearings, "I got up this morning determined to get tough," as he advised them of a big growth of violations.

The records as given from books of the Board were reported as 11 violations this year since Aug. 1 as compared with 10 violations during the same period in 1954. Six of the violators had served in the Reformatory and five in the state prison.

For the first nine months of this year, the books showed 33 violators of paroles as compared with 31 during the same period last year.

There were under parole on Oct. 1 from the Reformatory 52 youths and from the Penitentiary 51 men.

Since the first of October, the records showed two violations of parole by former Penitentiary inmates and one by a Reformatory youth.

State's Parole System Said Inadequate

By SALLY ADAMS
Star Staff Writer

A pardon and parole board system such as that in Nebraska is inadequate, Paul W. Keve, director of court services for Hennepin County, Minneapolis, Minn., said Thursday.

Keve, who is participating in the Nebraska Social Work Institute at the University of Nebraska, said it was not a matter of criticising the individuals serving on the present board.

(The state Pardon Board is composed of the governor, attorney general and secretary of state.)

There is a fallacy, Keve said, in the fact they are individuals chosen for one function acting in another function. The blame for any incompetence, he said, is on the system.

Field Service Needed

Lack of a field service, Keve said, is one of the greatest handicaps to the board of pardons. The board, he explained, is forced to base its decisions on analytical criteria. The board tries to judge a man according to what he has done in prison, he said, and prison is a very artificial life. He said prison has no relation to the conditions under which a man will live in a community situation.

A man who makes the best record in prison, Keve pointed out, is the man who conforms. However, he said, this does not mean he will make the best record outside of prison.

When a system includes field agents, he said, these agents can study a man's background in his community and investigate such factors as "the type of home the parolee will return to" and "how much the community resents his return."

Keve said a state-wide probational parole system should also include an institutional parole officer who would be trained to analyze each man's personality.

Individual Basic

He stressed that individualization is basic to any correctional

Commenting on the state Pardon Board's recent action in denying every application for parole from the Penitentiary, Keve said that a decision "to parole or not to parole" based on the fact that men the previous month violated parole has no relation to men coming up this month.

This causes additional bitterness and resentment toward public officials, he said, and the men are even less prepared to come out of prison.

Keve said that each state requires a system of pardons and paroles tailored to its own needs but there are minimum essentials in any system.

These include, he said, "professional leadership at the top, free of political influence." The program, he said, should be non-political and based on a merit system.

Speaking of prison problems in general, Keve said the greater freedom allowed prisoners has not been paced with administrative provisions in prisons which could offset these problems.

Many prisons, he said, are politically controlled and the administrators are unimaginative and unfeeling.

Correctional institutions, he pointed out, are one of the last places in state government to get any professionalization in employment.

One of the chief problems, Keve said, is the "extremely low prestige of the guards' job."

Concerning the prisoners themselves, he said, they develop resentment not so much for being in prison but for how they are handled while they are there. Confinement, he said, always intensifies resentment.

In the area of juvenile problems, Keve said that state juvenile courts with specialized judges are more effective than juvenile courts in each community.

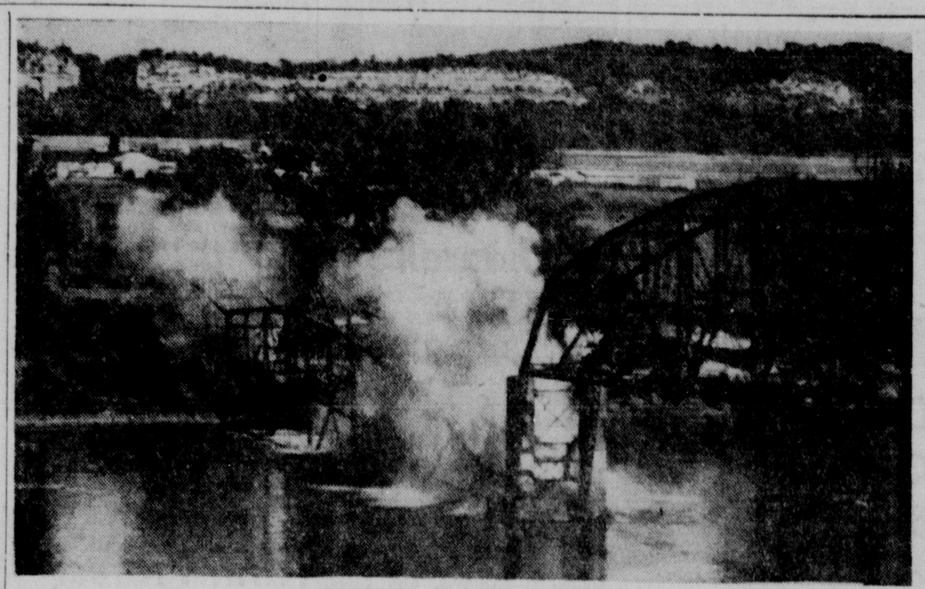

"As a general principle," he said, "where there are many courts the judges are not specialized and therefore do not do as good a job."

He gave credit to a strong lay committee for the substantial decrease in juvenile delinquency in Minneapolis during the last two years. He said that contrary to national trends, Minneapolis had a 17 per cent decreased in juvenile delinquency in 1954 and a similar decrease so far this year over the previous year.

Minneapolis, Keve said, has an unusually strong, active lay committee which works under the city council.

He said there has been statewide agitation for control of comic books throughout Minnesota, but he doubted if the local level is the place to do it. He explained that in his opinion it should be done on the national level to be effective.

In Omaha For Demo Clambake, Butler Predicts:

'Campaign Will Come To Farms In '56'

Omaha (AP) — Democratic National Chairman Paul M. Butler said Thursday night "a great deal" of the 1956 Presidential campaign will be waged in the Midwestern farm states.

Butler arrived for a series of meetings with Nebraska Democrats which will be climaxed with a dinner speech Friday night.

It is Butler's belief that the farm problem will be the top issue in next year's campaign. Therefore the candidates will be doing a lot of vote-hunting in this area.

Farmers Alone

Asked if the farm states alone could decide the election, Mr. Butler replied:

"Not by themselves, but with other blocs they could make the decisive votes."

Butler said that since Sept. 9 he has been in most of the farm states.

"A political revolt is in the making in these states," he said.

"The situation is pretty difficult for the American farmer. The Administration in Washington is putting all the emphasis on the factory farmer instead of the family farmer. The liquidation of the family farmer has gone far enough," he added.

The farm issue will also be a key factor in the national conventions, Butler said.

"And only the Democrats are meeting the Midwest this time," he pointed out.

Primary Influence

Butler said he though the results of the preferential primaries would have "some influence on the first ballot or two."

But he said he doubted if any candidate could win sufficient states in the primaries to control the nomination.

Butler was asked whether he thought the avowed candidates should prove their popularity in the preferential primaries.

"That's a new question for me," he said. "My job as national chairman does not concern the activities of the men who seek the nomination. I think that is up to each individual."

Butler will meet with the Democratic State Central Committee, county chairmen and women's groups during the day.

Saturday he and National Committeeman Bernard Boyle, National Committeewoman Mary Cunningham and State Chairman Lawrence Brock will go together to Des Moines for a Midwest Democratic farm meeting at which Averell Harriman will be one of the speakers.

York's Cop Car —Its Only One— Reported Stolen

Lincoln Star Special

YORK—Police Chief Bill Wolf reported Thursday night that York's one and only police car was stolen.

The 1955 black Ford, with red lights mounted on the front fender and bumper and containing a .30-.30 carbine rifle, was taken from a downtown street where an officer had parked it, the chief said.

He said the keys had been left in the car.

Asked if he thought the theft was a prank, Wolf said, "No, I hardly think so." The State Safety Patrol put out a broadcast for the car, but the thieves won't know about that because there was no radio in the vehicle.

Particulars Asked In Lewd Magazine Case

A motion for a bill of particulars in the charge against the Lincoln News Agency for selling "obscene, lewd, and indecent" publications Thursday was set for hearing in Municipal Court on Oct. 29th.

Filing the motion was Frederick H. Wagener, attorney for Oliver A. Pocras of the agency.

No particulars were presented in the complaint against Pocras when he was charged on Oct. 10th. He pleaded innocent and was placed under $100 bond.

Trial of the case had been set for Thursday.

The motion filed in Municipal Court asked for the state to set forth and describe the "alleged obscene, lewd, and indecent" publications" and the "specific portions thereof referred to in the complaint."

The complaint against Pocras specifically named Oct. 3rd as the date on which the publicaitons were offered for sale. No magazine names, however, were named in the complaint.

The 1936 law, which has not been previously used by the city, will be employed against individual retail magazine dealers, according to City Attorney Jack Pace, if the publications continue to be offered for sale.

Cooler Weather Headin' This Way

Weather forecasts indicated that cooler weather was on its way into Nebraska Friday. Temperatures were not expected to climb higher than 55 Friday.

Thursday was another pleasant day over the state. Lincoln registered the state high with a warm 73 degrees in the city and 72 degrees at the Airport.

Chadron recorded the state low with a 42-degree mark. In Lincoln the mercury dipped only to 53 Thursday before climbing into the 70's.

3 Hurt By Runaway Steel Rig

Tractor Trailer Hits 10 Autos

KITTANNING, Pa. (AP)—A big steel-laden tractor trailer, its brakes gone, speeded down a steep grade into a main street Thursday, spreading fire, destruction and injury as it smashed 10 autos.

Two persons were hospitalized and another, Mrs. Lola Vischaek, was treated and released. The truck and two cars burned. Flames from the wreckage spread to a nearby frame residence causing minor damage.

It was the third highway disaster of its kind, in which a big truck was involved, in recent weeks. Five persons were killed at West Newton, Pa., Oct. 4 and five others died in a similar crash near Cumberland, Md. Wednesday.

Charles Defrain, 42, of Williamsport, Pa., said the truck brakes gave way when he was about a third of the way down the grade on Route 422.

90-Degree Curve

The big rig negotiated a nearly 90-degree curve at the bottom of the hill and went rolling into town. About a block after entering the city street the truck struck the first vehicle.

Then in rapid succession it slammed into five other autos, pushing them to the side and rolled into four other cars. The truck halted as it plowed into the last two cars. Both were parked.

There was no estimate of the speed.

Stevenson: 'I'm Not Counting On New York'

NEW YORK (AP)—Adlai Stevenson made it virtually clear Thursday he will be a candidate for the Democratic presidential nomination.

"I'm not counting on the New York delegation at all," he told newsmen. They took this as a plain indication he would be in the race.

While this implied he expected Gov. Averell Harriman to be a rival candidate, at least in a favorite son capacity, Sen. Herbert H. Lehman (D-NY) came out a few hours later with a pledge of support to Stevenson.

Split Foreseen

Carmine G. DeSapio, Democratic national committeeman, had been working for a delegation 100 per cent for Harriman.

Lehman was the first major Democrat in New York to pledge support to Stevenson since Harriman's name has been mentioned prominently as a possible candidate at the Chicago convention next year.

Stevenson made his comment at Idlewild Airport before boarding a plane for Chicago.

Asked About Story

Newsmen had asked him about a New York Herald Tribune story that his supporters had started a move to keep the New York State delegation from giving solid backing to Harriman.

Stevenson, the Democratic candidate in 1952 and former governor of Illinois, replied:

"I neither know of nor have heard of such a thing. I'd be interested but I don't think I'd approve. I'm not counting on the New York delegation at all."

Adlai First Choice Of California Demos

LOS ANGELES (AP) — California Democratic politicians almost solidly back Adlai Stevenson as the party's nominee for president in 1956, a newspaper poll indicated Thursday.

The Mirror-News, announcing results of a poll of 600 members of the Democratic State Central Committee, said 82 per cent listed Stevenson as their personal choice.

Sen. Estes Kefauver of Tennessee was second with 9 per cent. New York's Gov. Averell Harriman third with 4 per cent. There were a few votes for others.

Lehman's statement said:

"Since my return from Europe I have been questioned repeatedly concerning my attitude toward the choice of a Democratic presidential candidate.

"My position is this:

"I campaigned vigorously with Adlai Stevenson in 1952 and since then I have discussed public questions with him. I have formed a high admiration for his character, for his ability and for his broad and liberal views, both in domestic and international affairs.

"Many months ago I stated publicly that of the many well-qualified Democrats available for nomination, my preference was Adlai Stevenson and that I expected to support him. I see no reason for any change in my attitude or preference."

Pharmacy Robbery Suspect Is Held

A 28-year-old Lincoln man, picked up and jailed Thursday on an open traffic charge, was held by police for investigation in connection with a $60 robbery at the Everett Pharmacy Monday night.

Witnesses to the closing time holdup at the store at 11th and B were called upon to aid police in the investigation.

GEN. MACARTHUR REPLIES . . .

Yalta Decision Binding—Doug

But He Would Have Opposed It Had He Been Consulted

By ARTHUR EVERETT

NEW YORK (AP)—Gen. Douglas MacArthur said Thursday he was bound by the World War II Yalta concessions, although he would have opposed them had he had an opportunity.

Said the wartime Pacific commander in a statement relating to long secret Pentagon records on Yalta:

"I repeat, had my views been requested concerning the secret agreements bearing upon Russia's entrance into the Pacific war I would have opposed them as fantastic."

MacArthur freely admitted he advocated Russia's entry into the Pacific War at its very outset. But he said he never repeated the recommendation prior to Yalta. After Yalta, he declared, he was bound by the decisions made there to bring Russia into the war, even though they were unpalatable to him. MacArthur went on:

"The attempt to interpret any statements I may have made in the course of such post-Yalta discussions as reflecting my pre-Yalta views and convictions is wholly unwarranted."

MacArthur's statement came as the Pentagon records rekindled the old controversy over the Soviet entrance into the Pacific war just six days before Japan's surrender.

Last March, a Republican-Democratic debate over Yalta brought up questions on MacArthur's views then that he had not the slightest connection with the Yalta conference and added:

"Had my views been requested with reference to Yalta I would most emphatically have recommended against bringing the Soviet into the Pacific war at that late date. To have made vital concessions for such a purpose would have seemed to me fantastic."

The Pentagon records — part of an incomplete 35,000-word file — showed that MacArthur twice concurred directly in the opinion that Russia should move into the conflict against Japan.

Once was shortly after Pearl Harbor. The second was in mid-June, 1945, two months before the war ended and after the Yalta conference.

State Department Employe Turnover Low—Brewster

OMAHA (AP)—Robert C. Brewster of Beatrice, Neb., a foreign service officer for the last six and one half years, told Creighton University students the turnover among employes of the State Department is low.

"Most officers feel they are doing something worthwhile. They live well enough and have a good retirement system," he said.

Brewster explained requirements for appointment to the service and told them something of the work and remunerations.

Brewster joined the service after three years in the Navy and post-graduate work at Columbia University. He has served in Nicaragua and Germany and now is on leave prior to a tour of duty in Washington.

Civil Defense Meet Set

Local Extension clubs of the Walton area will conduct a public hearing on Civil Defense Friday at 8 p.m. at the Walton school auditorium. Mrs. John R. Seaton Murder Jury Deadlocks

OMAHA (AP) — A District Court jury late Thursday deadlocked in the Robert Clyde Seaton murder case and was dismissed by Judge L. Ross Newkirk.

The case will have to be tried again.

The case went to the jury at 3:31 p.m. Wednesday.

Seaton was charged with second degree murder in the shooting of Clifford K. Williamson at a rooming house in March, 1954.

Discontinuance Of Stapleton Service Asked

OMAHA (AP)—The Union Pacific Railroad has asked State Railway Commission permission to discontinue its motor trains on a branch line between Kearney and Stapleton, Neb.

The railroad's application contends that for all practical purposes the public has abandoned the trains in favor of private and public motor vehicles.

Statistics show an average passenger load of less than three revenue passengers a day for each of the three trains, the railroad said.

The railroad proposes to change the schedule of two combination freight and passenger trains to substantially conform to the schedules to the three trains they wish to remove, but on a tri-weekly basis.

It said principal users of the branch line have agreed that the proposed services would satisfactorily handle freight and passengers now taken care of by motor trains.

Under the proposal mixed trains Nos. 95 and 96 would change schedules and Nos. 517, 518 and 519 would be removed.

Judge Rules Burglary Tool Case Mistrial

Lancaster District Judge Paul White Thursday declared a mistrial in the jury case of Curtis G. Barnes, 45, of Lincoln, charged with possession of burglary tools.

The case was continued to the next jury term for trial.

The mistrial was declared in connection with opening statements by Chief Dep. Co. Atty. Dale Fahrnbruch who told the jury, in part, that the state would prove the defendant was an ex-convict and had been previously convicted of burglary.

Prejudicial

Defense Atty. Frederick Wagener moved for mistrial on grounds that the statements were prejudicial to the defendant.

Judge White ruled on the motion following argument of counsel.

Two state witnesses had testified Thursday in the case before the jury was discharged by the court.

One witness, Police Officer Arthur Askamit testified he had stopped the Barnes car and obtained certain tools offered by the state as evidence.

Nobel Prize For '55 Won By Theorell

STOCKHOLM, Sweden (AP) — Dr. Hugo Theorell, crippled in both legs by polio, won the 1955 Nobel prize in medicine Thursday for discoveries on the nature and action of oxidation enzymes.

Celebrating the award, the 52-year-old scientist drank champagne and told friends he would use the record cash prize—equivalent to $36,720—to carry on his experimental research and rent a larger apartment. He is married and the father of three sons.

Oxidation enzymes, also called breathing enzymes, are essential to living matter in helping the cells to burn oxygen—that is, to breathe. Enzymes do their work roughly by passing on substances in a chemical chain reaction.

Theorell was stricken by polio when a young man and was forced to abandon his career as a medical practioneer. He now heads the biochemistry department of the Nobel Medical Institute.

Short and stocky, he moves with difficulty between the tables of his laboratory, crowded with apparatus he often constructed himself.

A modest and reticent man, whose main hobby is playing the violin—he has played solo parts in concerts — Theorell said he was deeply indebted to many foreign scientists.

Beall Urges Senate Probe On Newsprint

WASHINGTON (AP) — Sen. Beall (R-Md) Thursday urged a Senate investigation of the newsprint market, saying any increase in price might narrow the public's access to news.

Beall has also asked the Justice Department's Antitrust Division to furnish the Senate Banking Committee with any information it obtains on moves toward higher newsprint prices.

He suggested the Senate inquiry in a letter to Sen. Fulbright (D-Ark), chairman of the Banking Committee.

Immediate

"The possibility that the cost of Canadian newsprint might be increased by as much as $5 a ton is a matter which I feel should receive immediate study," Beall wrote.

"The importance of the situation can readily be seen in the fact that there are now 12,381 newspapers published in the United States, 1,984 of which are dailies. A majority of these newspapers are customers of the Canadian newsprint manufacturers.

"In nations which are not afraid to have an informed citizenry, newspapers play a major role in the dissemination of truth. We in this country can take justifiable pride in a free press which has been able to make current and accurate news available at a moderate price.

Senators Deny They Asked Special Planes

. . . Defense Dept. Claim Disputed

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Defense Department said Thursday it is sending two big four-engined transport planes on special trips to Europe to provide transportation home for three U. S. senators and their wives.

But two of the senators said they had not asked for government planes to fly them back. One of them said he is coming home on "a scheduled aircraft."

The estimated cost of the two special roundtrip flights outlined by the Defense Department is $20,000.

The first of the two planes, a DC6, took off Thursday for Madrid and was due to pick up Sens. McClellan (D-Ark) and Stennis (D-Miss) there Sunday. The second, a Constellation-type transport, is scheduled to leave here next Monday for Paris, where the Defense Department said Sen. Chavez (D-NM) would be waiting.

The Defense Department explained that the senators, who have been in Europe on business of the Senate Appropriations Committee, had said they could not wait for regular flights. The Washington offices of all three senators said, on the other hand, that they know of no requests for special service.

Reached in Naples Thursday night, McClellan said:

"There is not a word of truth in it. There can't be any truth in it. I have never heard of such a story. All I know is that I made arrangements to go back on a scheduled aircraft and that is what is going to happen."

It was not immediately clear here whether McClellan meant by "scheduled aircraft" a commercial airliner or a scheduled military plane. A Defense Department spokesman commented that the military plane en route to Madrid is now a "scheduled" flight, since it has been ordered to pick up McClellan and Stennis.

Stennis was not reached immediately, but Chavez said he had "requested nothing." He declined to say how he is getting home.

"My arrangements were made before and they stay as they are," Chavez said. "I have requested nothing."

Room for Others

In addition to the senators, the Defense Department spokesman said the two special planes would carry any other military or civilian officials entitled to a ride, and wanting one, on the return trip. The planes cost about $325 an hour to operate.

Senatorial aids said the Air Force had known for weeks that the senators would have to be back by certain dates to meet speaking or other engagements, and therefore could have arranged in advance to bring them back on regular flights.

Robert Tripp Ross, assistant secretary of defense for legislative and public affairs, said that when the senators told Defense Department representatives abroad that a proposal to use a later scheduled plane was unacceptable, the Pentagon had "no alternative" except the special flights.

Farm Protest Group Starts, Wires Benson

CORNING, Ia. (AP)—The National Farm Organization (NFO), a farm protest group, was formally organized hmere Thursday and promptly sent a telegram to Secretary of Agriculture Benson asking government controls to restore falling hog prices.

The telegram was the first order of business taken up by about 90 delegates elected by township groups in 28 counties of Iowa and Missouri.

"With today's hog prices selling in terminal markets at 14 cents (a pound) and in view of your statement last week in Kansas City that hogs may drop to 11 cents we hereby petition you to use the power invested in you to establish a floor of 90 per cent of parity of hogs as permitted by law," the NFO told Benson.

"It is our belief that unless immediate action is taken many farmers will be unable to meet the obligations involved in the prudent conduct of their business and the farm depression now developing may prove disastrous."

The organization elected regional officers Thursday.

Skid Row Fire Toll Rises To 4

CHICAGO (AP) — The toll in a fire which swept through a Skid Row hotel rose to four dead and 10 injured Thursday.

Two other victims died during the blaze Wednesday night in the Adams Hotel for men at 1008 W. Madison St.

Fight Injuries Cost Life Of Franklin Man

KANSAS CITY (AP)—Raymond C. Schmidt, a 38-year-old Franklin, Neb., truck driver died in a hospital Thursday following an altercation with an unidentified motorist.

Officers said Schmidt suffered a brain hemorrhage when he was knocked to the ground by the motorist during an exchange of words at a filling station on Highway 40 near the city limits of Kansas City. The argument followed a near collision between their vehicles. After Schmidt fell to the ground, the motorist fled.

Red China Spurns Dulles' Plea That It Renounce Use Of Force

TOKYO, (Friday) (AP) — Red China today in effect spurned Secretary of State Dulles' request that it renounce the use of force, saying it was the United States that was guilty of using force.

Peiping radio quoted at length from People's Daily, official Chinese Communist party newspaper, which again vowed to "liberate" Nationalist Formosa, with force if necessary.

Dulles repeatedly has urged Red China to renounce the use of force in international disputes. Only this week he made it clear at a news conference this was one condition before any high-level talks with the Peiping regime can be held.

Peaceful Means

People's Daily said Red China also "has made it clear" at ambassadorial-level talks at Geneva it wants higher-level meetings with the United States to settle disputes between the two nations "by peaceful means and not by force."

People's Daily denounced as a "slander" Dulles speech Oct. 10 before the American Legion in which he said the Chinese Communists seized power by force.

People's Daily said the fall of the Nationalists was "a great victory of the Chinese people's revolution." Then as to Formosa the newspaper declared:

"The exercise by the Chinese people of their own sovereign rights in the liberation of their own territory of Taiwan (Formosa) is China's internal affair. It brooks no intervention by any other country."

"It is precisely the use of armed force by the United States in the seizure and holding of Taiwan and other coastal islands that has brought about tension in the Taiwan area," Pepole's Daily concluded.

Southeast Parent, Teacher, Student Group Organized

Approximately 800 students, parents and teachers from Southeast High met Thursday night and organized the Southeast Junior-Senior High School Parent-Teacher-Student Association.

Other officers are Richard Tenhulzen, secretary; Richard Garlinghouse, assistant secretary; Mrs. Ralph Reed, treasurer, and Connie Schmidt, assistant treasurer.

The association decided to hold its meetings the third Thursday of each month.

Faculty members at Southeast were introduced at the meeting.

Basin Co-Ordinating Committee Told About Salt-Wahoo Progress

The Nebraska Co-ordinating Committee for Missouri Basin Resource Development Thursday evening at the College of Agriculture heard the progress of the Salt-Wahoo Basin project.

The group Friday morning are to tour several dam sites and channel improvement areas of the Corps of Engineers and the Soil Conservation Service in the upper Salt Creek area.

Gary Bobst, state SCS director, discussed the successes and problems of the Upper Salt Creek area above Roca, which is part of a pilot watershed authorization by Congress.

Interest a Problem

One of the main problems, he said, was getting local interest and enthusiasm for a conservation and watershed program.

He outlined the work and plans of SCS in the watershed and explained the five-year development program of the watershed.

Jack A. Gardner, of the Omaha District Office of the Corps of Engineers, explained the integrated plan of the Corps of Engineers and the Agricultural Department. He presented the historical background to the plans and explained how overlapping areas of the two plans were eliminated when a revised plan was accepted in 1954.

Completion Urged

There will not be adequate flood protection along the basin, he said, until the watershed plan or a similar one is completed. He emphasized the importance of local persons participating in the development program.

State Sen. Otto Liebers told the group the most important part of developing a watershed program is to first obtain the understanding and co-operation of the people. He said he was delighted with the progress and development of the Salt-Wahoo program.

The meeting followed a dinner at the Foods and Nutrition Building on the Ag Campus.

On the tour, which begins at 8:30 Friday morning, the group will see some of the detention structures and treatment practices installed by SCS and sites of Corps of Engineer dams and channel work.

From Out Of The Fog

On Monday Defense Secretary Charles Wilson was quoted in the news columns to the effect that he was of the opinion that defense costs would run slightly higher than had been anticipated previously.

On Tuesday Defense Secretary Charles Wilson was quoted in the news columns to the effect that in the next few months 68,000 civilian employees would be separated from the federal payroll at a saving of $300 million a year.

The least to be said is that Mr. Wilson has discovered the secret of traveling in two directly opposite directions at the same time.

There may or may not be a confusion in his two public statements. He did reveal that for the most part the elimination of the 68,000 civilian employees would be accomplished simply by not filling positions vacated by resignation or by reason of other developments. In the event it is not necessary to fill the jobs of those leaving of their own volition, then the natural inquiry is why they have been held on the job as long as they have.

What the American people have a right to expect is a greater spirit of responsibility in connection with public statements by key figures in the Eisenhower administration who get themselves on one side of the fence one day and turn up on the other side of the fence the next. It can be and it is slightly confusing.

We'd Rather Honor Them

The Pentagon has released 35,000 words of a hitherto unpublicized record to add new flames to the continuing debate of who invited Russia into the Japanese war. It was aimed at General MacArthur, an unrestrained and caustic critic of a good deal of this country's Far East actions, and it has been taken by the country as the Pentagon's answer to the general's assertion that he was from the beginning against drawing Russia in.

A lot of it goes back to the Yalta conference. The controversy is becoming tedious. The farther it goes the less clarity it produces. All that the generals have succeeded in doing is to fog up history and engage in some first class second guessing.

The clock cannot stand still while men who will to some extent go down in history, themselves, by being connected with a historic event, scuffle for infallible places. The nation has a more urgent responsibility of dealing with today's realities. And the nation likes all of its generals for each in his way did a competent, loyal and admirable job.

And as for Yalta, it is far too early to appraise its effect. Future historians may hail it as a pivotal act of statesmanship. Or there may be no Western history to discuss because of it. And generals should not choose sides before the jury comes in with the verdict. We can talk of realities because they exist, but we cannot pit them against what might have been because it didn't happen and could have been anything. It seems more to the point at this stage to address ourselves as prudently and vigorously as possible to the concerns of the day, leaving to the generals of yesterday the honor due them without any contention.

As Though The Midwest Said It

The Washington D. C. Post sounded downright middle-western this week when it gave a piece of advice to flood-ravaged New England.

It assured the people living along Connecticut's lately raging rivers that fellow Americans everywhere will rally to aid and comfort them in their adversity—no doubt about it.

But then it went on to say that the victims of the floods as well as those who will send aid must ask themselves whether these tragedies could not have been averted by intelligent planning—whether flood control measures taken in time might not have saved immeasurable destruction and suffering.

In that vein it continued:

"But New England has been resistant to the recommendation of the Army Corps of Engineers and to other flood control proposals—in large part, it would seem, out of a doctrinaire distaste for what is sometimes called 'creeping Socialism'. Every suggestion that flood control be accomplished through the construction of multi-purpose dams which would be used for the generation of electric power has encountered the adamant opposition of the private power companies. The whole New England river situation ought to receive fresh and unprejudiced scrutiny. And it would do well to bear in mind that there is nothing more creepingly socialist about federal aid for flood prevention than there is about federal aid for the victims of disaster."

That was a piece of plain talking, but ever so true. The slogan of "creeping Socialism" so frequently heard in high places of late when applied to public responsibilities of resources development and the public welfare has confused the mind even in the Middle West which has long understood and championed the functions to which the federal government has been dedicated, sensibly, for so many years. The doctrine is cloaking more subversion than virtue, however it may have been intended, and it should be sent through the wash.

Of Men And Things

By J. E. LAWRENCE

It now develops that if the Nebraska State Board of Control adopted all the recommendations made in 1951 by the American Psychiatric Association in the operation and maintenance of the three state-maintained Nebraska mental hospitals, tax requirements for the salaries of additional technically trained personnel would call for $934,344 annually. Since appropriations are made on the basis of biennial needs, salary requirements alone would call for an additional $1,864,000 biennially.

It is Dr. Sandritter's claim that this somewhat substantial increase for salary requirements in staffing the mental hospitals with those trained technicians he has in mind would be offset by the fact that many mental patients would be cured, and cease to be charges of the state. The money needed for increased facilities, the mounting financial burden of providing for those afflicted with mental illness, Dr. Sandritter has insisted, could result in actual savings running into the hundreds of thousands of dollars if the Board of Control adopted fully the recommendations of the American Psychiatric Association. Could be. But the Board of Control is taking on quite a responsibility when it adds just short of a million dollars annually to the payrolls of the three institutions under its supervision, a million which covers only professional services. The Legislature appropriates the money. And the Legislature will want to be convinced it is taking a step in the right direction before it adds that million to the state's tax bill.

One Balances Other

Meanwhile Dr. Sandritter would be much more convincing if he presented the figures bearing out his claims that in states where his ideas are met more fully—if there are any among the 48—the cost of mental care has gone down steadily. We have no knowledge where that has happened. Cost of state government has risen steadily in the last 10 years and there is at this time no end in sight. Mounting costs of state government have become a matter of primary concern among the people who pay the bill.

The Board of Control has been tardy in its efforts to get at the facts. Without too much effort on its own part, there has been adequate opportunity since the study was completed in 1951 to find out the circumstances in other states. It could have set the people of Nebraska clear on the foundation for Dr. Sandritter's charges of neglect in developing an economical administration. This paper intends to find out what is happening not only here but elsewhere. It is a study upon which the Legislative Council should have been embarked since the recommendations were received in 1951, a study which could have been completed months ago. It is a study that certainly justifies the most devoted efforts of the Board of Control, charged as it is with the care and maintenance of institutions under its supervision. That board has greater responsibility than concern itself with the daily routine developments in connection with the institutions under it. It should have been looking ahead in thoughtful spirit to see to it that not only were the people in its care being given the best of treatment but that that treatment also conformed to standards of economical administration.

Let's Have The Facts

If the present membership of the board lacks the capacity to do the job, then its members should step aside for others capable of doing it.

The Yardstick

Thus far the provisional government of Argentina has failed to convince the world that it is restoring the democratic way of life that former Dictator Peron slew.

It is true that the new government has purged the Argentine Confederation of Labor of Peronist leaders and has exposed the decamped dictator himself as a self-seeking, girl-crazy, phony statesman, and has raised the flag of democratic promise. But there is nothing constructive in mulling over Peron's misdeeds, and a critical observer could suggest that the labor union purge only brought the installation of an administration leadership without changing the political character of the union. The new regime must do better than that before it will win the heart of true believers.

The free world will get a better sign when La Prensa, the great newspaper that so long fought the fight for human rights without fear or favor, is returned to the ownership and character it once enjoyed. It was a special target of Peron and a coveted prize he won by expropriating its owners after he had undermined the operation. He exploited its great reputation for propaganda purposes. La Prensa has been declared free by the new regime, but it is a questionable freedom—a freedom that only aims it at attacks on the Peronistas.

Need The Women

Russia has sent farm and housing delegations to the United States and we have shared our know-how to the extent that Russia will be able to make improvements in both departments of life. We had principally the satisfaction of being of service. The Des Moines Register, in thinking it over, said a better idea is to invite the Russian women to the United States, let them see the sparkling homes, the well kept children and the respected status of women. The Register has got a point. If that happens Russia will never be the same again.

New England Pays For Penny-Pinching

WASHINGTON — The story of New England flood control is one of tragic postponement, procrastination, and penny-pinching. Back in 1936—19 years ago—Congress authorized $300,000,000 to control floods in every New England state except Maine. In the 19 years that have passed, only $60,000,000 has been spent.

Congress authorized the money, then didn't bother to appropriate it. And the Army Engineers can't spend money that's merely authorized. It has to be appropriated as well.

No matter how money is spent on flood control, however, damage can never be completely prevented until New England cities are rebuilt, and houses close to the river replaced with parking lots or public parks. Putnam, Conn., has now asked the Army Engineers to co-operate in zoning it for future floods, moving factories and houses back from the river and making the river bank a park or parking area where the river can expand without damage.

FRIEND OF PRESIDENTS

George Allen, author of the book, "Presidents Who Have Known Me," is a man who can always land on his political feet. He has as many political lives as a cat.

First he was the great friend of Harry Truman, at which time the newspapers called him the "court jester." Today he is the friend of Pres. Eisenhower and is called a "statesman." He bought the Gettysburg farm in a partnership deal with Ike and is also a partner with Ike in owning a Howard Johnson Restaurant in Washington.

George was philosophizing the other day about the political future and remarked:

"The balance of power has shifted. The Democrats may get in in '56.

"They can't nominate a man who isn't my friend," he added.

SPIRIT OF GENEVA

Regardless of Ike-advisers' belief that the spirit of Geneva is dead, the National Association of Home Builders has been doing a constructive job of carrying on that spirit in its entertainment of Russian housing experts in the U.S.A.

Though they haven't received as many headlines as the Russian farm delegation, the housing experts have been working just as hard and getting a friendly welcome. More restrained than the Russian farmers, they have concealed their emotions, have concentrated on flooring, wallboards, cinder-block, haven't gone in for either lemonade or vodka.

Once, when turned loose in Macy's department store in New York, they really went on a shopping binge, ended up with $6,000 worth of housing gadgets.

Superman Would Be Parties' Ideal

WASHINGTON—A secret committee made up of the most sober minds in both the Republican and Democratic parties has met in the deepest vault in Fort Knox to decide on the qualifications required of the candidates for President next year.

Although the meeting was surrounded by every kind of security precaution, this reporter, thanks to a remarkable new listening device that picks up conversations anywhere and any place within a range of several hundred miles can report on the prescription that was agreed to after many hours of discussion. The basic specifications are as follows:

He must be between 47 and 57 years old.

He must have a heart and arteries certified by a board made up of 10 of the nation's leading specialists to be strong enough to endure any and all stresses and strains.

He must be able to solve all the problems of the nation and the world; any confession of modesty that he has less than this capacity will be an immediate disqualifier.

He must never appear in anything less than a mood of smiling confidence; but never under any circumstances shall he lapse into humor.

He must have a family but he must be ready to sacrifice their right of privacy to the purposes of publicity on any and all occasions.

He must be totally telegenic, combining the appeal of Burt Lancaster and Liberace with a touch of Marlon Brando for good measure.

He must, above all, have a hide like that of a rhinoceros, impervious to slander and calumny, the whispered canard as well as the direct attack.

After the specifications had been agreed to—the above is only a small part of the long list—Democrats and Republicans canvassed separately as to the number of men in each party who might fit the prescription. The answer in both instances was: None.

If he existed, he would be Superman. While the search will go on, it is possible that both parties will have to settle next year for a human being; a human being with all his strengths and weaknesses, his vices and virtues.

For 14 years the Democratic party was under the spell of Franklin D. Roosevelt. For a variety of reasons he was built to a stature larger than life size. So far had this process gone that he was re-elected to a fourth term even though the outward and visible signs of his illness and his incapacity for high office should have been obvious.

During the past three years the Republican party has come under the spell of Dwight D. Eisenhower. He has emerged in the same larger-than-life image to whom his party and a large segment of the American people have looked for continuing miracles. From time to time the President has remonstrated against this kind of concentrated hero worship—the process of making a mortal man into a superman. But though he spoke with evident sincerity and feeling on this score, his words were politely disregarded.

Timing Off In Johnson Putsch

WASHINGTON—A new and sizzling chapter in the fevered pre-convention maneuvering triggered by President Eisenhower's heart attack centers around another coronary victim, Senate Majority Leader Lyndon Johnson. It is typical of the fast pace of political developments since the professionals began to realize that both conventions would probably be wide open.

Senator Johnson is recovering from a massive heart attack at his Texas ranch, where he was recently visited by Washington reporters. On their return they reported that he was seeking to form a center coalition within the Democratic party, which would play a decisive role at its presidential convention next summer.

The senator was described as determined to force a truly wide-open convention in which Adlai Stevenson would not be automatically nominated. He hopes also, it was said, to achieve a platform which will reflect the moderate temper of the Democratic Congress under the leadership of Johnson and Speaker Sam Rayburn.

It now appears that whatever the merits of the Johnson plan, its timing was off. Within 24 hours, members of the southern governors conference, meeting in Point Clear, Alabama, threw Mr. Johnson down so hard he bounced. The governors said they knew nothing about such a coalition, though they would obviously have major control of their state delegations at the convention and the South would be a natural field for cultivation of moderate sentiment. Some said they thought it a poor idea.

The explanation now offered is that Senator Johnson hadn't gotten around to discussing the matter with the Southern governors but that he planned in time to do so. He has, of course, had a great many important political figures visiting him in Texas. Presumably he has tried out his idea on them.

That Senator Johnson would want the party to go in the direction he has been taking the Senate majority is not surprising. He is extremely defensive of his course, which has been under attack within the party and not always by the liberals. But while showing himself sensitive to criticism, he has neither retreated from nor wavered in his belief that the Johnson line was in tune with the public temper; therefore, both proper and politically wise.

The proposed Johnson center will necessarily be controversial. There are elements in the Democratic party which believe that when the country is in that mood it will vote Republican and that the Democrats must offer vigorous programs for social and economic programs.

Although Johnson denies any hostility toward Stevenson, Stevenson supporters are racing to his views with extreme suspicion. If it is not part of a "Stop Stevenson" drive, they say, it doesn't discourage it in any way.

Professionals raise the question of just how much senators influence national conventions, anyway. Recent history at least dictates the answer of "not very much," and the case of the late Sen. Taft springs readily to mind.

Sparklers Spark Injured Woman To Action

Apartment dwellers will nod a chilly agreement with the Hastings Tribune observation that "The very coldest season of all is that between the end of summer and the time the landlord finally decides to turn on the heat."

Reed O'Hanlon Jr. turned on the gas heater in his Blair Pilot-Tribune office to take the chill from the room and a few minutes later a highly overheated mouse leaped out headed for places cooler than an editor's office. One of his staff writers says it's an interesting sight now to watch him light the gas burner—standing on a chair.

Melon-grower Ross Chapman took a little space in the Bayard Transcript for an open letter to those who had been raiding his patch . . .

"When you saw the story last week about the melon party we had where 20 of us devoured a 48-pound melon, you took it for granted there must be a pretty good melon patch where it came from. My melon patch consists of one vine and two large melons, one 48-pound melon and the other 38 pounds. The next time you raid my patch, be sure to look in the granary—that's where the 38-pounder was . . ."

Spalding Enterprise Editor Jim Conway would place himself with all the other "crude and common people" when it comes to much true appreciation of the trend to modern art. Artist Terence Duren grew up in Mr. Conway's home town of Shelby, and another famous artist, Dale Nichols, only 20 miles away in David City, and neither, Mr. Conway says, "has ever found it necessary to dabble with it." A good old German neighbor of his had the most apt description: "It is shust like you taken eine hen's foot and dips him in the ink bottles . . ."

Diamonds are a girl's best friend, or even sometimes a great restorative, if an incident near North Platte is any indication. A California couple were injured in a car accident there, and ambulance attendants had placed the woman on a stretcher. Then she got to thinking about the diamonds among their possessions that were scattered around the landscape and she promptly hopped up to help her husband in searching for them. Whether the sparklers ever were located or not, the investigating patrolman did not know . . .

From Fifth and Sixth Grade items in the Hardy Herald: "We suffered a loss during recess when our teacher blocked Tommy Sorenson in order for Gary Fuller to carry the football through. Gary stumbled and knocked her head over heels two turns. What was lost? Both of Teacher's earrings which we recovered after we made sure she had recovered first."

It's a little lonely around the Plourd home in Fullerton these days. "The little Boston bulldog who has livened up the place for the past 10 years had to be put to sleep last week because the miseries of old age made it no longer any fun for her to be a bulldog. We've always liked bulldogs . . . they fit so well into the moods of those they love. When we've felt cheerful, there was always the ears-up invitation to play with a battered rubber ball dropped at our feet . . . and when we felt tired and maybe a little depressed, she seemed to sense it. A bulldog is an expert at looking gloomy. We miss the little friend . . . she thought we were a great guy . . ."

Voyage To Hatred

Lincoln, Neb.

To the editor of The Lincoln Star: We note in the October 16th paper that the defrocked Fr. Emmett McLoughlin is to make a public appearance in Lincoln under the auspices of an unnamed "number of organizations and church groups" and we wish to point out that the speaker is one of a score or so priests who have fallen and turned into financial profit their active opposition to the Church which still loves them.

The mere fact these men have strayed is news because it is so uncommon in relation to the 45,000 good, hard-working priests who labor for Christ in the U.S. today.

We would like to point out that our non-Catholic friends, neighbors and business associates that Fr. McLoughlin will undoubtedly elaborate on a favorite subject of his, as he wrote in two publications within the past year, that "I tell (my audience) that an intelligent, loyal American cannot be a sincere, devout Catholic." We consider ourselves both "intelligent, loyal Americans" as well as "sincere, devout Catholics" and believe every reasonable person will agree with us rather than Fr. McLoughlin.

Finally, we want to stress that Fr. McLoughlin is not a "former priest" because as he and anyone with knowledge of the priesthood realizes, in 1933 he freely took the permanent vows of a priest and the indelible mark of consecration to God is still upon him and nothing he can do can erase it.

Because he is a priest, he deserves our respect — and because he is a fallen priest, he deserves and has our love and prayers for a return from his voyage to hatred.

Glassford Record

Lincoln, Neb.

To the editor of The Lincoln Star: Glassford is not only very inept at the teaching of football but he is also a very poor recruiter of playing personnel. Sure, he can recruit Pennsylvania boys but, after all, are we naive enough to presume that any first-rate out-of-state boys would want to play for a school with such a record?

United Nations Day

Lincoln, Neb.

To the editor of The Lincoln Star: We haven't much time to read stories these days. Either we are too busy with the problems of making a living or we are too frightened by the reports of atomic developments and the new and astonishing weapons of destruction. But there are some stories we should read, stories like these:

By spending $40,000 to introduce hybrid seed in European countries, $24 million was added to the value of Europe's corn crop in one year.

El Salvador is doubling its electrical supply.

In India, land is being reclaimed which will eventually produce 500,000 tons of wheat a year.

In one year over eight million children in Africa and Asia were protected against tuberculosis and 20 million against malaria.

Safety regulations have been standardized at international airports and a train of weather and rescue ships is maintained along the airlines over the Atlantic.

The struggling village of Sirs-el-Layyan in Egypt has a fundamental education center for peoples of nine Middle Eastern countries.

What is behind these stories? The World Bank, the Food and Agriculture organization, the World Health Organization, the International Civil Aviation Organization, the United Nations Educational, Scientific and Cultural Organization—in two words, the United Nations!

October 24 is United Nations Day. In April the United Nations was 10 years old, and we have only begun to realize the possibilities of the United Nations as the most representative instrument for the relaxation of tensions in the world. There is much more to the U.N. than political activity. It is heavily engaged in an attack on the basic causes of war — poverty, disease, repression and insecurity. This work is not spectacular but it goes on steadily in every region of the world.

And the U.N. is our greatest bargain for it costs the United States just about one cent a week for every man, woman and child in this country — one cent a week for the ultimate objective of the establishment of a more secure peace for all the peoples of the world!

Concord Land Offered For NU Experiment Station

Haskell Tract Would Serve As Memorial

Lincoln Star Special

WAYNE, Neb. — C. D. Haskell of Laurel has offered to give the Northeast Nebraska Experimental Farm Assn. a 320-acre tract near Concord for use as an experiment station.

Dean W. V. Lambert of the College of Agriculture and other officials from the University of Nebraska, which would operate the station, will visit the site early in November to see whether it is suitable for the purpose.

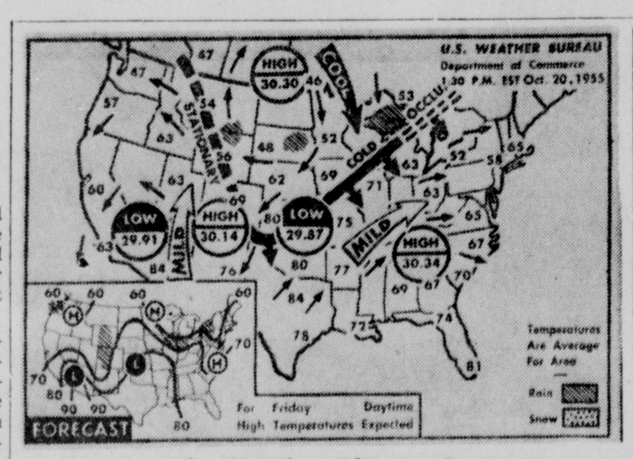

Haskell proposed to give the land as a memorial to his parents, the late John D. Haskell of Wakefield who died in 1926 and his widow who died in 1951.

The land he proposes to give the University is across the road from part of an 880-acre farm he and his son, William, operate.

The Northeast Nebraska Experimental Farm Assn., headed by Albert Watson of Wayne, originally planned to purchase land to be given to the University for an experiment station in the area.

The University owns experiment stations near Mitchell and North Platte and a small fruit station near Union.

It also operates a station near Alliance on land owned by the county and leased to the University and a station at Ft. Robinson on federal government-owned land by agreement with the U. S. Department of Agriculture.

Little Weather Change Seen

Most of the country will have fair to partly cloudy skies Friday. Some light rain is forecast for the Pacific northwest coastal area, some showers for parts of the Great Lakes region, and a few showers in the higher central Rockies. It will be warmer in Atlantic coastal states and the Ohio and Tennessee valleys. It will be cooler over the middle Mississippi valley. Little change is expected elsewhere. (AP Wirphoto Map).

Weaver's Payroll Is Highest

WASHINGTON (AP) — The office payroll of Rep. Weaver (R — Neb) currently is the highest of the four representatives in Congress from Nebraska, House records show.

Figures made public by the House disbursing office show that Weaver paid seven employes $2,347 for September. For the same month, Rep. Miller (R) paid five employes $1,944, Rep. Chase (R) paid five employes $1,822 and Rep. Harrison (R) paid four employes $1,667.

Each House member is given a basic allowance of $17,500 annually for clerk hire. However, due to various pay increases, the actual maximum is nearly double the basic allowance, on the average.

Weaver said that of the total he spends annually for clerk hire roughly three-fourths is used for three employes in his Washington office and less than one-fourth for four parttime employes in his home district.

Utica Grange Members Hold Husking Bee

UTICA, Neb. — Fourteen Utica Grange members and neighbors equipped with six cornpickers, 10 tractors and 10 wagons gathered at the farm of Mr. and Mrs. Carl Caldwell, near Utica, to husk 21 acres of corn.

In two and a half hours the corn was picked and in the crib.

Mr. Caldwell has been in poor health for several months.

The committee members for the project were: Bernard Brown, chairman; David Frazier, Archie Trollope and Roy Nelson.

The follwing women prepared and served lunch: Mrs. Roy Stallings, Mrs. Clair McNeil, Mrs. Walter Rutledge, Mrs. Ernest Heidbreder, Mrs. Herman Erks and Mrs. Roland Barth.

Small Charged With Omaha Gem Robbery

OMAHA (AP)—Paul R. Small, 35-year-old ex-convict, was freed on $10,000 bond Thursday after being charged with robbery in a holdup which netted an estimated $165,000 in cash and jewels.

The amount of loot was upped from $140,000 to $165,000 when Mrs. Margaret Kellogg, the victim raised her estimate of the cash taken to $40,000.

Mrs. Kellogg said she was "pretty sure" Small was one of the men who burst into her fashionable West Side home Tuesday night and cleaned out her bedroom safe at gunpoint. She originally estimated her loss at $125,000 in jewelry and $15,000 in cash.

Driver Sentenced To Reformatory In Fatal Crash Case

OGALLALA, Neb. (AP) — Two drivers, charged with motor vehicle homicide by County Attorney Firmin Q. Feltz, entered pleas of guilty at a hearing before District Judge I. J. Nisley, North Platte, at Ogallala.

Porfirio Guedea, 21, Sedgwick, Colo., was sentenced to a term of three to three and one-half years in the men's reformatory at Lincoln. He was the driver of a car that collided with a cement culvert one mile west of Paxton last July 10. Miss Gertrude Gaona, 19, Hershey, front seat passenger in the car, was killed.

Floyd Colbert, 42, Greeley, Colo., was sentenced to pay a fine of $500. Cylburn Jones, 36 - year - old jet airplane mechanic from El Cajon, Calif., was killed Sept. 18 when a car he was driving and one driven by Colbert collided four and one-half miles west of Ogallala. Colbert was accused of driving in the wrong lane of traffic.

Nielsen Said Available For Hastings Job

Control Board Is Criticized For 'Not Assuming Initiative'

HASTINGS, Neb. (AP) — The Nebraska Board of Control has been informed that Dr. Juul Nielsen will return to the superintendency of the Hastings State Hospital "if the board wants him."

Charles Uerling, president of the Hastings Association for Advancement of Mental Health, disclosed Thursday he had so notified the Board of Control in an exchange of communication.

Now superintendent of the Central State Hospital at Petersburg, Va., Dr. Nielsen was superintendent of the Hastings institution from 1933 to 1951.

Board Chairman Thomas J. Dredla answered Uerling:

No Application

"To date we have received no application from Dr. Nielsen for this position. If Dr. Nielsen is interested in becoming superintendent of the Hastings State Hospital, and if he will send his application to this office, we will be more than happy to consider same along with other applications."

Following receipt of Dredla's letter, Uerling said he wrote:

"We just can't seem to understand the thinking of the board. Every newspaper we pick up states that personnel is critical all over.

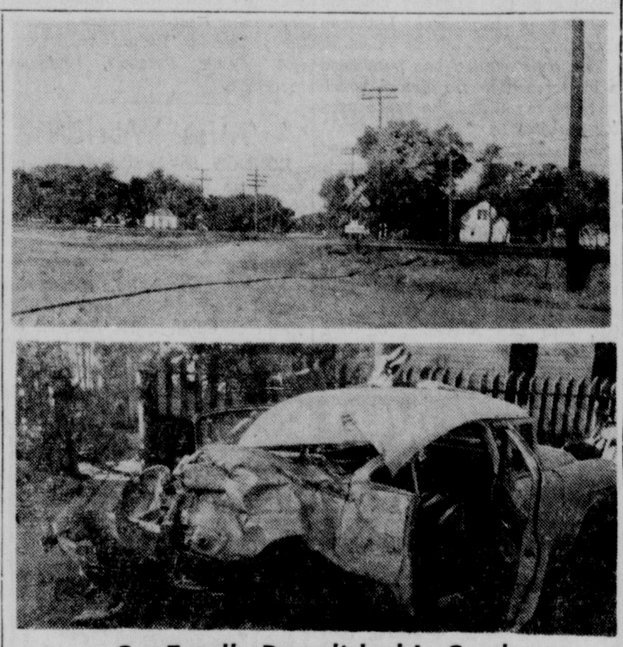

"On that basis, we cannot understand why you wait for good people to make applications. However, we do not see anything wrong with applications, but the point is that you know Dr. Juul Nielsen is available, and in view of the terrific shortage, we do not see why Dr. Cecil Wittson (state mental health director) and the Board of Control do not go after good people.

"In fact this type of thinking may be some of the reason that we do not have good personnel and available personnel.

Positive Attitude

"We think that Dr. Wittson and the board should take an aggressive and positive attitude in getting personnel instead of the negative attitude . . . We do not say this to be critical. We just feel that the position you are now taking is not correct in view of the situation at hand."

The Hastings group, the board has been informed, feels Dr. Nielson should be offered the Hastings superintendency to succeed Dr. G. Lee Sandritter "because Nebraska is short of good men in this field. He is qualified and Nebraska needs him."

Car Totally Demolished In Crash

Triple Services Are Planned

Lincoln Star Special

CENTRAL CITY, Neb.—Triple funeral services will be held at 10 a. m. Friday at the Methodist Church here for the three victims of a rail crossing accident in Central City Tuesday night.

Killed in the car-train crash were Mrs. Hubert Demel, her daughter, Anne, 14, and Barbara Funk, daughter of the Rev. and Mrs. Charles Funk. The Rev. Mr. Funk is pastor of the Central City Methodist Church.

A fourth passenger in the car, Vicky Kay Peterson, was still listed as critical late Thursday in a Grand Island hospital. She is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Charles Peterson.

The tragedy occurred as Mrs. Demel was taking the three girls, all Central City High School freshmen, to a school initiation party. Her car was struck by a freight train just after a westbound passenger train had passed the crossing. It was thought the passenger train may have obscured the view of the oncoming freight.

The front of the car was undamaged, but the rear, which bore the brunt of the crash, was crushed.

3 Men, Woman Plead Guilty To Area Thefts

By VIRGIL FALLOON
Star Staff Writer

Three men and a woman pleaded guilty Thursday in Lancaster County courts to burglary charges resulting from swift police action which cleared a series of break-ins in the Lincoln area.

A fourth man, Carl Richard Brockman, 25, of 528 So. 26th, also arrested in the burglary ring, was being held for Cass County authorities for prosecution on an Eagle School burglary Oct. 17, police said.

Arraigned directly in District Court were Ira D. Brockman, 26, of 528 So. 26th, Richard Brockman's brother, and Edwin E. Lundy, 27, of Cheney.

Brockman was charged with burglarya of the Swift Fuel Co., at 3265 Sheridan, on Oct. 18, and Lundy was charged with breaking and entering the Strauss Bros. Construction Company at 3815 Touzalin on Sept. 26.

Deferred Sentence

District Judge Paul White accepted their pleas of guilty and deferred sentence pending an investigation by the adult probation officer.

Possible penitentiary terms on the charge is from one to ten years.

The other two defendants were bound over to District Court under bond after pleading guilty in County Court.

Floyd Craig, 26, from Blair and LaVon Brockman, 25, the wife of Richard Brockman, were also charged with the burglary of the Swift Fuel Co.

Craig and Ira Brockman had been caught red handed at the Swift offices, starting police action which broke the ring.

In pleading guilty to the charge, Mrs. Brockman admitted that she "drove the boys to the building (scene of the burglary), knowing

Lundy

Craig

they intended to break in, and was to pick them up afterwards."

Chief Deputy County Attorney Dale Fahrnbruck explained in court that she was charged the same as the principals because she was an accessory before the fact.

In open court, Mrs. Brockman said she had also driven the getaway car in the Eagle School burglary for her husband.

County Judge Herbert Ronin set appearance bonds for Craig and Mrs. Brockman at $5,000 and $2,500, respectively.

Lincoln Police Chief Joe Carroll said the four men admitted being involved in a number of burglaries.

Two Per Job

"They never worked with more than two on any one job but each of them admitted being involved," Carroll said.

The burglary series included 11 in Lincoln, three at Beatrice (Gage County), two in Lansaster County, and one at Eagle (Cass County).

A second Lincoln woman, brought in for questioning in the police dragnet, was released as not being involved, Carroll reported.

"The defendants were at her house at various times," Carroll said, "but there is no evidence she was involved."

Mrs. Brockman was arrested at her home as the driver of the getaway car after Craig and Ira Brockman were captured.

Men Have Records

All four men have prison records, according to police.

Ira Brockman was discharged from the Nebraska Penitentiary on Sept. 1 after serving a prison escape sentence and a previous grand larceny sentence.

Craig and Lundy had both served burglary terms. Craig was discharged on Oct. 7 and Lundy was released on parole in 1954, and was subsequently discharged last April.

Richard Brockman, who had been working as a baker and had lived in Lincoln the past three years, completed in 1950 a Reformatory escape sentence and a one-to-five year term for burglary.

Police said further questioning Thursday afternoon had cleared the theft of a $200 gold and silver chalice from the Holy Family Parish, 37th and Sheridan, on Oct. 13. The chalice was not immediately recovered, they said.

Lutherans Adopt $17,000 Budget

A 1956 budget of $17,000 was adopted at the quarterly business meeting of Immanuel Lutheran Church.

The congregation has purchased a house next to the church which is to be razed and the space used for parking.

John Miller Jr. was elected chairman of the congregation. William Pabst was named vice chairman; Ivan Sunderman, secretary; Derald Drbal, treasurer; and Walter Pethoud, financial secretary.

'Miss World'

LONDON (AP)—Susana Djuim of Venezuela Thursday won the title of "Miss World" in competition with 20 other girls. Margaret Anne Haywood of Onesboro, Ark., was runner-up.

Julia Coumoundourou of Greece placed third. Then came Gilda Marin of Cuba, Anita Astrand of Sweden, and Gisele Thierry of France.

Minister To Attend

LONDON (AP) — Britain has decided to send a ranking Cabinet minister to the first meeting of the Bagdad Defense Alliance next month, informed diplomats said Thursday night.

Probe Is Asked In State Department 'Ouster' Case

WASHINGTON (AP) — Sen. Bridges (R-NH) called Thursday for a Senate investigation of the case of historian Donald M. Dozer, who contends the State Department fired him for protesting against what he calls the suppression of some of the Yalta papers.

Bridges said Dozer has made accusations which, if substantiated, would indicate "a deliberate attempt to thwart the will of Congress."

Among other things, Bridges said in a prepared statement, Dozer alleges that "many available sources of material were disregarded or definitely suppressed" in the State Department's publication of papers relating to the wartime Yalta conference.

Limited Duty

The Bridges statement is a sequel to a Washington dispatch published in the New Bedford, Mass., Standard-Time last week. The story said Dozer, a State Department historian, had been dismissed but was appealing, and Bryton Barron, in charge of compiling the official record of the wartime meeting of President Roosevelt, Prime Minister Churchill and Premier Stalin in the Crimea, had been placed on limited duty for retirement at the end of the year.

The newspaper said they both had pressed for early publication of the record of the meeting at which Stalin obtained agreement for territorial and other concessions in return for a promise to enter the war against Japan.

The State Department has said Barron and Dozer were accused of insubordination. Officials said no mention of the Yalta papers was made in the voluminous files in the department's case against them.

Retirement Offered

The department said Dozer was dismissed Sept. 30 after a hearing and Barron offered to retire before his hearing reached the decision stage.

Dozer, according to the department, had 15 years service. Barron will have 30 years service early next year, making him eligible for retirement at $300 a month. Barron has left his job, however, on leave without pay pending retirement.

In addition to the suppression charge, Bridges said, Dozer also contends "in regard to the reports on the other wartime conferences that they are and have been in galley-proof form for almost a year. This is the same form in which the Yalta papers were originally released."

"I am informed," Bridges said, "that Mr. Dozer charges that in 1952 when the State Department was headed by Dean Acheson, he was required to prepare material for the Democrat (sic) Senatorial Campaign Committee; that on other occasions he was required to do ghost writing of a strictly partisan nature; that he was also required to participate in a State Department refutation of the charges of Sen. McCarthy (R-Wis)."

McCarthy hit first and hardest at the State Department in his campaign on charges that the government was Communist — infiltrated.

Nebraska Highway Traffic Unchanged

Traffic on highways of Nebraska was practically unchanged in September, compared with the same month a year ago, with only an estimated additional 83,000 miles of vehicular traffic, according to the monthly report of State Engineer L. N. Ress.

Total miles traveled was given as 10,821,000, compared with an average of 9,658,000 last year. The traffic increased two per cent in the first nine months over the same months last year. There was a decrease of 10 per cent from the August figures.

Brunette's Body Is Found In N.Y. $200 Apartment

NEW YORK (AP) — The bruised body of a brunette divorcee was found Thursday amid signs of revelry in her 54th St. apartment just west of Fifth Avenue.

She was identified as Mrs. Ellen Unger, 30, who drew $500 a month alimony from her divorced husband, Julian Unger, a Detroit steel executive.

Police found empty whisky bottles and glasses throughout the $200-a-month apartment.

Mrs. Unger's forehead and arms were bruised but Asst. Med. Examiner Nathan Ludwig said the bruises might be old.

Pending an autopsy, the death was not listed by police as suspicious.

The building superintendent missed seeing Mrs. Unger for a couple of days and called the police.

Two French poodles were found in the apartment with the dead woman.

December Draft To Call Up 158

The December draft call will take 158 men from Nebraska, Lt. Col. Francis S. Drath, deputy state director of Selective Service, announced Thursday.

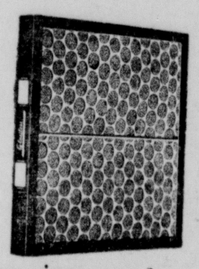

The inductees are part of the nation's call for 18,000 men—8,000 for the Army and 10,000 for the Navy.

December is the second consecutive month that the Navy is taking draftees. In November the Navy took 10,000 men and the Army took 10,000. The state's share of that call was 174 men.

Crop Good At Neb. City

Jack Gardner pours apples on the long grading-belt in a Nebraska City plant as the luscious fruit begins the long trip to the market basket. (Star Staff Photo.)

By ELLIS RALL
Star Staff Writer

NEBRASKA CITY — The apple crop in this area apparently weathered the summer drought in fairly good shape.

However, hot winds and dry weather did take their toll, Richard Kimmel, one of the leading orchard owners in this area, said.

Much of the fruit was knocked from the trees by the hot winds before it was ripe, he said.

He added, however, that the quality of the fruit seemed to be better than last year. Most of his 80-acre crop is worm free, due largely to an extensive spraying program, he said.

The drought, especially after Aug. 1, took a heavy toll on the Jonathan variety. Jonathan is a fall variety.

Retail prices on the average are down compared to last year. However, the average prices on fall varieties which include Jonathans, Red and Golden Delicious and Secor varieties, is about the same as it has been the past three years.

Winter varieties which include Winesaps and Pippins, are down as much as 50 cents per bushel.

Price, he said, is set by demand, size, grade and quality.

Recent weather of bright, warm afternoons and cool nights have been just what is needed to give the apples a bright coloring, Kimmel said. The great temperature variance is an important factor in the proper coloring of the fruit.

Reds Who Jumped Ship Will Immigrate To U.S.

WASHINGTON (AP)—Nine Russian seamen who jumped ship at Formosa are being admitted to the United States as special immigrants.

Traveling from Taipei by plane, they are due in New York this weekend.

The seamen have been the subject of prolonged diplomatic exchanges between the U.S. and Soviet governments.

From Tanker

They defected from the Soviet tanker Tuapse last year after it was confiscated by Nationalist Chinese as it sought to take oil to Red Chinese ports.

The tanker's crew of 49 was held at Taipei. Twenty asked and were granted asylum and 29 were returned to Russia. Of the 20 granted asylum, nine requested entry into the United States.

Officials said Thursday Atty. Gen. Brownell agreed it would be in the national interest to admit them. Brownell acted under a section of the immigration law which gives him discretionary power to admit aliens otherwise inadmissible. There must be a finding, however, that such entry is in the national interest.

The Church World Service, a religious organization in New York City, is the sponsoring agency for the nine.

In the diplomatic exchanges, Russia accused the United States of having a hand in the seizure of the Tuapse. The United States rejected this charge as "completely without foundation."

Fine, Sentence Given In Theft Of 3 Guns

A 33-year-old man, Robert E. Manwiller, who gave his address as the Milner Hotel, was fined $100 and sentenced to four months in jail after pleading guilty to the theft of three guns.

Municipal Court Judge John Jacobson assessed the fine and sentence.

Manwiller pleaded guilty to the theft of a .22 rifle, a .22 pistol, and a .12 gauge shotgun, all valued at $150.

Joe M. Thompson Rites Saturday

Funeral services for Joe M. Thompson, 76, of 837 No. 42nd, a Lincoln resident for 25 years, will be held at Nebraska City.

The services will be at 2 p.m. Saturday at Peterson Mortuary. Burial will be at Wyuka Cemetery at Nebraska City.

Mr. Thompson died Wednesday while visiting in Seward. He had lived in Nebraska 53 years, and was a native of Villa Grove, Ill.

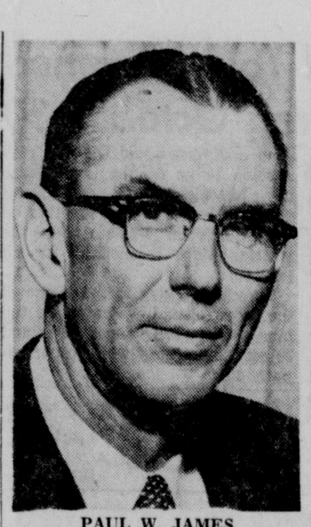

He was a member of the Christian Church, Eagle and Moose lodges.

Surviving are a son, Guy M. of Lincoln; three daughters, Mrs. Jocie Dvorak of Bee, Mrs. Margaret DeLaney of Denver and Mrs. Nellie Willberger of Estes Park, Colo.; mother, Mrs. Mary Thompson of St. Joseph, Mo.; two brothers, Fred, Pat and Ace, all of St. Joseph; a sister, Ora of St. Joseph; four grandchildren, and one great grandson.

Volunteer Course Set At Veterans Hospital

The fall orientation and indoctrination course for volunteers at the Lincoln Veterans Hospital will be held from 1 to 4 p.m. Tuesday in the hospital auditorium, Dr. Melvin Boykin, hospital manager, announced.

The course will include discussions by both medical and administrative personnel of the hospital. There will also be a tour of the hospital and a movie.

PAUL W. JAMES

MRS. CELESTIA KAUFFMAN

Paul James, Mrs. Kauffman Head Odd Fellows, Rebekahs

Paul W. James of York has been elected grand master of the state Odd Fellows Grand Lodge at the closing session of the group's annual convention in Lincoln.

Mrs. Celestia Kauffman of Cozad was elected president of the Rebekah Assembly.

Newly appointed officers are C. L. Nelson, Hastings, grand instructor; Clarence Higley, Cozad, grand chaplin; Roy Docker, Pierce, grand marshal; Robert Hoins, Fairfield, grand conductor; Bruce Moore, Gordon, grand guardian; Robert Egle, Wauneta, grand messenger; Ronald Elznic, Geneva, grand herald; E. O. Richards, Chappel, grand representative, and Howard Jackson, Lincoln, grand representative.

Other new Rebekah officers are Mrs. Esther Spangler, Fremont, vice president; Mrs. Sophia Pascale, Omaha, warden; Mrs. Zella Rosenberg, Lincoln, secretary, and Mrs. Evelyn Lane, Fremont, treasurer.

Nine NU WomenPledged By Alpha Lambda Delta

The new members are Martha Danielson, Betty Parks and Darinna Turner, all of Lincoln; Helen Barnette, Holdrege; Jean Bennett, North Platte; Joan Kluge, Ogallala; Naomi Kroeger, Wisner; Janet Loveseth, St. Peter, Minn.; and Patricia Schaller, South Sioux City.

Requirement for membership in the organization is a 7.5 cumulative average, equivalent to 90 per cent, for the freshman year.

Parties Settle $25,000 Suit

A $25,000 personal injury suit in settled by the parties after the case was heard in part by only 11 jurors.

District Judge Harry Spencer had excused a woman juror, who suddenly became ill Thursday, and the trial had proceeded with 11 jurors by agreement of the parties.

Lee R. Steven of 1979 South had sought damages for alleged injuries received Dec. 14, 1954, in a car-pedestrian accident on the University of Nebraska agricultural campus.

Defendants were Della Joan Harrison, 20, a student, driver of the car, and her father, Joe Harrison of Rt. 7 Lincoln.

The suit was settled for an undisclosed amount after the plaintiff's case was ested and one defense witness had testified.

New Mexican Back On Burglar Count

A 24-year-old Tucumcari, N. M., man was being returned to Lincoln on a burglary charge filed in Lancaster County Court.

The man, identified on the complaint as Raymond F. Popejoy, was charged with burglarizing a public building at the Lincoln Air Force Base last Aug. 29.

Popejoy was working as a construction laborer at the base when some tools were taken from a construction company job, the Lancaster County Sheriff's office said.

Haynes Files For Congress

Mayor Merle A. Haynes of South Sioux City, Neb., completed filing with the secretary of state Thursday for the Republican nomination for representative in Congress from the Third Nebraska District.

Haynes is the third to file for the seat now held by Robert D. Harrison, Norfolk Republican, who is expected to seek re-election.

The others who have completed their filing are State Sen. Lester H. Anderson of Aurora and E. A. Carlson of Hordville.

Harrison has held the post since the death of Karl Stefan of Norfolk in 1951.

NWU Marching Band Plans Homecoming Show

"A Typical Wesleyan School Year" will be the theme of the show put on by the Nebraska Wesleyan University marching band Saturday during the Plainsmen's homecoming day game with Midland.

Prof. Marshall

Prof. Robert L. Marshall will lead the 96 piece organization through a series of eight formations with musical and dramatic accompaniment.

The initial formation will be a huge football to salute the fall of the year. The band will play "Our Team Will Shine Tonight."

Other formations in order:

1. Plymouth Rock to salute Thanksgiving season, featuring a short prayer by a student pastor and a few strains of "Prayer of Thanksgiving."

2. A Christmas Tree to salute the Christmas season and featuring a Santa Claus and the children of Wesleyan faculty members.

3. A two plus two equals "?" formation to direct attention to the examination season.

4. An outline of the state of Nebraska in recognition of spring when four Wesleyan musical groups tour the entire state as a public relations project.

5. A block formation, accompanied by a May Pole dance to recognize the traditional Spring Fete.

6. An hour-glass formation to salute graduation time as the band plays "Auld Lang Syne."

7. A huge crown, the center of which will serve as the setting for recognition of the 1955 "N" Club Sweetheart.

Winners of house decorations contests—a traditional Wesleyan homecoming activity—will also be announced at the conclusion of the halftime show.

25 High Schools To Attend Institute

Twenty-five Nebraska high schools will send representatives to the University of Nebraska's annual High School Institute for students of social studies and debate, to be held Saturday at the Temple building.

Donald Olson, assistant professor of speech and director of debate, said that approximately 225 students will participate. The general topic for discussion is: "Expanding Educational Opportunities."

Sen. Barrett To Address Reclamationists

Senator Frank A. Barrett (R-Wyo) will be one of the principal speakers who will appear on the program at the annual convention of the National Reclamation Association in Lincoln October 24 to 26, at the Hotel Cornhusker.

Sen. Barrett

Senator Barrett, a long time champion of western reclamation, will discuss the subject of "western water rights" on Tuesday, Oct. 25 at 2 p.m.

Senator Barrett, has also served four terms in the House, been Governor of Wyoming and has a long record of interest in legislative action which has been of benefit to the development of the West. In launching the "fight over western rights" with the introduction of S.863, Senator Barrett is spearheading a drive of interest to reclamationists.

During the first session of the 84th Congress Senator Barrett was instrumental in securing passage of the Small Projects Bill and other measures which materially affect the development of western states resources. His remarks before the Senate on such subjects as Sugar and Uranium development have received wide distribution and comment.

More Historical Tours Planned For Fairbury Area October 30

Lincoln Star Special

FAIRBURY, Neb.—Members of the Jefferson County Historical Society are planning on conducting historical tours Sunday afternoon Oct. 30 at Fairbury. The demand of the public has been strong for more such tours since the three were held in the spring.

The tentative plans are for four different tours the same afternoon. John Knobel will be in charge of one tour, Foster Helvey and Glen LeRoy another, Oliver Stull and Levi Bloyd one each.

Definite plans will be announced later when the leaders have the sites and routes laid out and permission to go on the land where the historical and educational sites are located. The meeting on the square in Fairbury as the starting place is planned for all the tours.

Persons wanting to make one of the tours should watch when the tour plans are announced and select the one they want to participate in.

U.S. Goes $1 Billion Less In Red In First Quarter

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Treasury said Thursday the government spent more in the first quarter of the current fiscal year than it did a year before. But tax receipts also rose.

The result was that the government went into the red in the three months for about a billion dollars less than in corresponding months a year earlier, the monthly budget statement for September showed. This report closed the first quarter of fiscal year 1956.

The government's net receipts during July, August and September totaled $12,997,000,000 compared with $11,690,000,000 the first three months of fiscal year 1955. That was a gain in the government's income, above the total for the corresponding period a year before, of $1,307,000,000.

Tax Increase

An increase of about 760 million dollars in individual income taxes accounted for more than half the gain in revenue. There also were increases in corporation taxes, excise taxes and miscellaneous taxes, reflecting the business boom.

Spending in the first quarter of the fiscal year amounted to $16,947,000,000, or 369 millions more than outlays in the first three months of the previous fiscal year.

Two large differences in spending totals were due to bookkeeping, and did not reflect actual changes in outlays. Crop support costs were down this quarter by nearly a billion dollars, but this was due to a difference in the timing of the financing of part of the crop support loans through private banks.

Interest costs were half a billion dollars higher than a year earlier, due to a change in the method of reporting government interest costs.

The differences in totals caused by bookkeeping will tend to fade as the year progresses.

There was a dip nearly half a billion dollars in military foreign aid outlays, compared to the first quarter of last year, and a rise of 782 million dollars in military spending by the Defense Department. This last was principally due to air force procurement.

The resulting first quarter deficit was $3,950,000,000 or nearly one billion dollars less than the deficit of $4,888,000,000 in the corresponding period a year earlier.

Miss Nebraska Completing Work To Qualify Her To Aid Handicapped

MISS SPEICHER

"Suffer little children and forbid them not to come unto Me for of such is the Kingdom of Heaven."

With that Bible quotation, "Miss Nebraska" concluded her message to an audience of thousands at Atlantic City, N. J., last summer during the "Miss America" contest. In her message she related her hope to work with handicapped children.

A junior in the University of Nebraska Teachers College, "Miss Nebraska" — Sandra Speicher — is now completing her elementary education studies but hopes to get into special education soon.

Speech therapy seems to interest the blond coed from Omaha most, following summer experience in several areas of work with the handicapped.

Sandra worked with mentally retarded children at Omaha's Opportunity Center and also directed school for underprivileged children at a community center.

Daughter of Dr. and Mrs. J. H. Speicher, Sandra feels that telling the huge audience about her future plans during the talent portion of the "Miss America" contest did some good.

She's convinced that it helped to bring to thousands of people realization of the special education that is needed for so many children—and the immense value and satisfaction of such work.

Hitler Aide Says Adolf Considered Fleeing By Auto

CAMP FRIEDLAND, Germany (AP) — Adolph Hitler's motor pool officer, just returned from Soviet captivity, said Thursday night the Fuehrer once prepared to flee from besieged Berlin by car, but changed his mind.

"It's all the same whether I die in Berchtesgaden (Bavarian Mountain retreat) or in Berlin," ex-Capt. Karl Schneider quoted Hitler as saying, "as long as the Russians do not get my body."

Talking with reporters, Schneider did not say what made Hitler change his mind.

He said he was ordered to provide the gasoline which was used April 30, 1945, to cremate the bodies of Hitler and his bride of a day, Eva Braun. After the bodies were burned, he said, he took Hitler's personal standard and buried it in the nearby Tiergarten.

St. Louis Suburb Cops, Burglary Probe Planned

ST. LOUIS (AP) — An investigation of an alleged burglary ring led Thursday to charges against a Wellston policeman and plans for an inquiry involving the entire police force of the suburb of 10,000.

Prosecuting Atty. Edward W. Garnholz of St. Louis County said he would present the matter to a circuit court grand jury, and added:

"This is just a start in the investigation. We expect to check out every officer on the (Wellston) force." There are 18 on the force.

Advanced Meet Held For G.I. Conference

NORTH PLATTE, Neb. (AP)—Representatives of about a dozen towns in this area attended a day-long session held in preparation for Gov. Anderson's Nov. 10 education conference at Grand Island.

The Rev. Carroll Lemon, Lincoln, vice president of the Nebraska Council for Better Education, conducted the meeting, one of two planned in advance of the Grand Island sessions.

Actress Jan Sterling Gives Birth To Boy At Hollywood Home

HOLLYWOOD (AP) —Actress Jan Sterling, wife of actor Paul Douglas, Thursday gave birth to a 7-pound, 12-ounce boy at their home here.

A spokesman for the Douglas family said it was a "natural birth," a term designating cases in which anesthetics are not used. Dr Francis Ballard was in attendance.

It was the first child for Douglas and Miss Sterling, who were married in 1950. The newcomer was named Adams.

The 32-year-old actress was up and around after the birth, carryin[illegible] in her arms. She answered the phone and told a reporter the natural childbirth method was "just wonderful."

Son Of Ike Press Chief To Marry

ALLENTOWN, Pa. (AP) — Marine Lt. Roger Carl Hagerty, 23, son of James Hagerty, press secretary to President Eisenhower, has applied for a license to marry a Swedish-born teacher, a courthouse record disclosed Thursday.

The prospective bride, according to the application filed with the register of wills at the Lehigh County Courthouse, is Eda Margareta Thoren, 26, who listed her birthplace as Nowrkoping Sweden, her father, Gehard Thoren, as a minister and her occupation as a teacher.

A clerk in the marriage license bureau said the couple indicated they planned to be married here Saturday in the Episcopal Church of the Mediator.

There is a three-day waiting period before a marriage license can be used in Pennsylvania.

Morris Denies Misconduct

. . . Reply Charges 'Political Pressure' In Ouster

Ousted Reformatory Superintendent George L. Morris Thursday in his formal reply to the Board of Control charges against him Thursday denied that public statements he made were derogatory and constituted misconduct and hampered penal institution operations.

The nine-page formal reply and the Board's charges will be the basis of the public hearing which the Board of Control has scheduled for Oct. 25.

The public hearing, which may last two or three days, is scheduled to open Tuesday morning in the Governor's hearing room at the Capitol.

'Arbitrary, Capricious

The formal answer alleges that the dismissal was "arbitrary, improper, capricious, oppressive, illegal and an administrative abuse of discretion." It continued that the Board of Control exceeded its authority and jurisdiction and the dismissal was a result of "political pressure."

Morris, who was discharged Sept. 8, admitted through his counsel that he made "certain statements culminating in press releases published in newspapers throughout the state and broadcasts over radio and television stations."

But he denied the statements constituted misconduct or were derogatory to the Board of Control and its employes, as charged against him by the Board of Control.

'Best Interest'

Morris asserted his statements were made "for the best interest of Nebraska" and revealed his penal philosophy in connection with incidents in state penal institutions during 1955.

The answer alleged that all the statements were true and "served only to properly point out to the citizens of Nebraska a condition that has been and was existent at the time such statements were released."

The reply to the Board of Control charges further stated that at no time had anyone of authority remonstrated with Morris that his statements were derogatory to the Board or its employees.

Letter Hit

The reply asserts that a letter to Morris by the Board of Control in August criticizing the withholding of clothing from rebellious inmates held in segregation after an uprising "was written only for the express purpose of creating a fictitious situation and reason for the subsequent dismissal."

The reply further alleges that B. B. Albert, $9,000 a year State Penal Director, from the time of his employment until Morris' dismissal had never visited the Reformatory nor contracted the Superintendent by telephone or any other means of communication.

Continuing,the reply said that on Aug. 1, Albert was directed in writing by the Board to inspect the Reformatory and consult with the Superintendent. That directive had not been complied with, the answer said.

"The discharge of George L. Morris on Sept. 8, 1955, constituted a violation of the right of George L. Morris to speak freely on all subjects, which freedom of speech is accorded and guaranteed to all citizens" by the U.S. and State Constitutions, the reply asserted.

The answer continued that Morris was informed by the press, the Governor's office and the Board of Control that the Governor's office and Board recognized the right of free speech in Nebraska as pertains to state employment. This was indicated, the answer continued, through statements made by the parties to the effect that Morris was entitled o texpress his own views.

It concluded with a demand that the charges be dismissed and Morris reinstated with full pay for time lost.

'20-30 Witnesses'

Morris said his side might call "twenty or thirty witnesses" mostly state employees, in his defense.

His counsel is Frederick H. Wagener, former Lancaster County Attorney. Assistant Atty. Gen. Robert Nelson will act as counsel for the Board of Control.

Morris, who headed the Reformatory eight years, was replaced by M. L. Wimberley, who had headed the Boys' Training School at Kearney since 1950.

Two days after Morris was ousted, inmates at the Reformatory rioted and burned the shop building causing a reported $35,000 loss.

Columbus School Bond Vote Slated

COLUMBUS, Neb. (AP)—Voters of the Columbus school district will ballot Nov. 8 on a $1,500,000 bond issue for a new public high school.

A 55 per cent maojrity is required for approval of the bond issue.

In a similar election in 1952 a $290,000 bond issue for improvement of grade school facilities was carried with an 89 per cent vote.

Biological Scientists Pick Four New Committees

Four new committees were established by the Nebraska Society of Biological Scientists at the group's meeting. Robert J. Barr, president, in naming the new units said existing committees on stream pollution, economic poisons and medical laboratory operations would continue.

The new committees and members:

Publicity: L. O. Vose, Victor Levine and Carl E. Georgi. Public relations: Rex Rucksdashel, James Severins and Wallace Cowden. Program: L. J. Cooper, George Kelly and W. E. Englebrecht. Membership: Carl Jolliff, Robert Patterson and Helen Linkswiler.

Short Cut Crosses Jet Bomber's Path

A 43-year-old patient was back at the Lincoln State Hospital Thursday "after taking a short cut" in front of a B-47 jet bomber which was "revving up" for takeoff at the Lincoln Air Force Base.

The patient was paroled from the hospital Wednesday afternoon and was to drive to his brother's home at Norfolk.

The man told Deputy Sheriff Robert Anderson he had been looking for the "cut-off" from West O to Highway 2 and 34 when he got onto the airfield via a construction road.

The deputy said the man had been drinking. The patient was turned over to the sheriff's office by base authorities after brief questioning.

New High School Groundbreaking Set For Sunday

Groundbreaking ceremonies for Pius X Central Catholic High School will be held at 4 p. m. Sunday at the building site at 60th and A.

The Most Rev. Louis B. Kucera, Bishop of Lincoln, will break the ground and bless the site and the Very Rev. Msgr. Jerome Murray, diocesan superintendent of schools, will give a short talk.

Construction of the school is to begin about Nov. 1 and is to be completed Jan. 1, 1957, in time for the second semester of the school year.

The contract was given to the Kingery Construction Co. of Lincoln, which made the low bid of $453,000. Eight bids were submitted.

1. WHO MADE IT? You are entitled to know whom to hold responsible for quality. All our whiskey is labeled "Distilled and Bottled by . . ." We allow no-one to distill or bottle a drop of it.

2. WHAT'S THE MAKER'S REPUTATION? If you can see who he is ask anyone in the business about it. We invite you to ask our competitors' opinion of us and the quality of everything we make.

3. WHERE MADE? Kentucky bourbons are as famed for quality as "Omaha" steaks. Every drop of our whiskey comes from our family-owned distillery, atop our own limestone wells.

4. WHAT KIND? Straight, Canadian or Blend? We have never made—and never will—anything but straight Kentucky Bourbon.

5. SOUR MASH OR NOT? "Sour Mash" is the name of the slow, old-time, process we still use. Costs us more, but it puts the flavor in naturally. We have never made any whiskey any other way.

6. WHY THE PRICE YOU ASK? Some prices seem low until you fully understand the values in this business. Our prices are low —considering all you get.

Papers Fear Margaret Romance May Tarnish Royal Prestige

. . . Princess And Pilot Meet Again

LONDON (AP)—Princess Margaret and Group Capt. Peter Townsend met again Thursday night and expressed fears that their romance may tarnish the prestige of the royal family.

The 25-year-old princess and her divorced pilot friend, 40, drove separately to the London home of Maj. and Mrs. John L. Wills. Mrs. Wills is a cousin and confidante of the princess and was the romancing couple's hostess at her country home in Windsor Forest last weekend.

Lights burned brightly behind the curtained windows of the house and laughter sounded when the front door was opened to admit two other guests.

Princess Margaret drove up to the villa in her Rolls Royce from Clarence House 10 minutes before Townsend arrived. Her personal detective sat beside the chauffeur.

This was the seventh meeting of the couple since Townsend arrived from his two-year exile in Brussels as air attache eight days ago.

Two leading Conservative journals—the carefully edited Daily Telegraph and the 127-year-old Spectator, a weekly journal of opinion—echoed an undercurrent of uneasiness about the romance and the sensationalized atmosphere surrounding it. This undercurrent has become more and move evident throughout the nation.

LONDON (AP) — The Telegraph, strong supporter of Prime Minister Eden's Conservative government, said the royal family could suffer "loss of dignity" through failure to clarify the mystery of whether 25-year-old Princess Margaret will marry Group Capt. Peter Townsend, 40, divorced Battle of Britain hero.

The Spectator reminded the royal family that "one of the functions of the monarchy . . . is above all to cement, not to divide." The paper said a Townsend-Margaret marriage would certainly offend many loyal subjects of Queen Elizabeth here and overseas.

'Soap Opera'

"Nor is it unlikely that Princess Margaret by marrying Group Capt. Townsend would be harming the monarchy," the Spectator said.

"Royal Soap Opera" was the way the New Statesman and Nation, a leftist intellectual weekly, captioned an article by Malcolm Muggeridge, a former deputy editor of the Telegraph and present editor of the magazine Punch.

Muggeridge said the Margaret-Townsend romantics were the "sort of thing expected of Rita Hayworth" and said the situation could have disastrous consequences.

He added that a new party pledged to end the monarchy "might get quite a few recruits."

Florist's Death Ruled Suicide

Lincoln Star Special

FAIRBURY, Neb. — The body of 30-year-old Loren Sims, Fairbury florist missing since Wednesday morning, was discovered late Thursday afternoon in a ravine on the Harvey Schultz farm, three miles northwest of Fairbury.

Sheriff Deyo Hughes said Sims was found a few yards from the panel delivery truck he had been driving. A .22 calibre revolver was found clutched in his hand, according to the sheriff, who ruled the death suicide.

The discovery was made by Joe Engels, operator of the Fairbury airport, who had taken a plane to search for the missing Sims. Engels said he spotted the truck from the air, then returned to the scene by auto where the body was found.

3-State Search

Missing since 9 a.m. Wednesday when he was seen driving in downtown Fairbury, Sims had been the object of a three-state search started Thursday by his father, Floyd Sims, of Belleville, Kan.

The search was started in the belief that the younger Sims might have left for Colorado where the family cabin is located. Loren Sims had been in ill health for sometime. He had talked of taking a rest and seeing a Lincoln doctor, his father said.

A World War II veteran, Loren Sims operated the Sims Floral Shop at Fairbury for his father for about the past 10 years. He attended schools in Belleville and Fairbury. He was a member of the Junior Chamber of Commerce.

Surviving are his wife, Patricia; one daughter, Paren; his father and his mother, Mrs. Devonia Sims, also of Belleville; two sisters, Mrs. Dean Tamerius of Fairbury and Mrs. Harold Tamerius of Manhattan, Kan.

Speech Teachers Plan Fall Meeting

Dr. Kim Giffin, University of Kansas debate director, will be guest speaker at the annual fall meeting of the Nebraska Speech Association to be held Saturday at the University of Nebraska.

Dr. Giffin will discuss speech activities in high school at the luncheon for the speech teachers.

Registration will open at 8:30 a.m. at the Temple Building, followed by a panel discussion at 10 a.m. on "Directing the One-Act Play." Dr. Dallas Williams, associate professor of speech and dramatic art at the University, will be panel chairman.

A meeting of debate coaches will be held at 2 p.m. in Room 201, Temple.

Pact OK Urged

TEHRAN, Iran (AP) — Iranian Premier Hussein Ala asked the Majlis—lower House of Parliament — Thursday to approve a bill authorizing his government to join the Turkish-Iraq Defense Pact. The bill was approved by the Senate Wednesday.

Education Week

Gov. Victor E. Anderson Thursday issued a proclamation designating Nov. 6-12 as American Education Week and urged Nebraska citizens to "acquaint themselves more fully with the programs, needs and problems of our schools" during that period. The Governor pointed out that "the schools of this state are now confronted with unparalled problems" and said solution of these problems rests "quite directly on public understanding . . . and concern."

BUSY TOWN—BUSY PEOPLE

An Attractive Twosome

No matter what the season houseguests always are pleasant conversation topics—and this morning we have news of guests who arrived on Wednesday from Winnetka, Ill., to spend the week-end with Miss Agnes Anderson and her parents, Mr. and Mrs. O. M. Anderson.

In the picture we find Miss Anderson (left) and Mrs. Charles Voorhis taking time out for a cup of tea before the evening festivities are underway.

Mr. Voorhis, who recently was discharged from the navy at Quonset Point, R.I., and Mrs. Voorhis stopped off in Lincoln en route to the west coast, and plan to continue the journey westward on Sunday.

IT'S a busy town full of busy people, judging from all of the news we garnered from here and there this morning—And of course no morning would be complete without at least mention of guests—current and potential—plus a courtesy or two for a bride-elect—and a dozen and one other interesting things.

BUT before we get involved in this and that around town we want to tell you that Mrs. C. B. Towle is rejoicing over the news of a great-granddaughter, Priscilla Ann Reger, who arrived in Detroit, Mich., on Sunday, Oct. 16. The petite Miss Priscilla is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Paul Reger of Detroit, and her mother is the former Bonney Varney, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. T. T. Varney, Jr., of Broken Bow—and Kappa Kappa Gamma at Nebraska.

AND while we are visiting about the Towle family we think you might like to know that Mrs. T. T. Varney, Jr.; her daughter-in-law, Mrs. T. T. Varney, III, and her two small sons, Tiffy and Billy, were in Lincoln on Wednesday for a brief visit with Mrs. Varney, Jr.'s mother, Mrs. Towle.

From Lincoln Mrs. Varney left for Detroit to meet her new granddaughter, and Mrs. Varney, III, and her sons, went on to Whiting, Ind., for a visit with relatives.

TO OMAHA and the Ak-Sar-Ben Coronation ceremonies this evening will go Miss Agnes Anderson, Miss Judy Flansburg, Carl Olson, Jr., and Robert Burton of Falls City. Miss Anderson and Miss Flansburg, you may recall, are both former Lincoln countesses in the Court of Ak-Sar-Ben.

THERE was a wedding celebration Thursday evening at the home of Mr. and Mrs. H. B. Cather who celebrated their 41st anniversary. The family gathered for a dessert supper and an informal evening at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Cather.

AND that reminds us that Mr. and Mrs. Howard Cather, Jr., are having guests next week-end—Mrs. Cather's brother-in-law and sister, Mr. and Mrs. Clive Hilbert, and Mr. and Mrs. George Nesselrode, all of Kansas City, who will arrive on Friday—attend the Kansas-Nebraska game on Saturday, and return home on Sunday.

ARRIVING in Lincoln next Thursday evening will be Mr. and Mrs. J. William Padberg and their sons, Dick and Jack, of Scottsbluff, formerly of Lincoln. The foursome will remain until Sunday as the guests of Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Silverman, and we hear that numerous informal courtesies have been planned.

WE OPENED the brides' book and found that Miss Claudette Helm, whose marriage to Dr. Robert Mockett will be solemnized on Nov. 4, was complimented on Thursday evening when Mrs. Melvin Pohlenz was a dinner hostess at Hotel Cornhusker. Following dinner the evening was spent informally, and the soon-to-be-bride was presented with a miscellaneous shower.

ANOTHER of our brides-elect, Miss Daisy DuTeau, whose marriage to Gates Minnick will be solemnized on Dec. 19, is the incentive for the luncheon planned by Mrs. A. H. Kurtz and Mrs. Earle B. Wilson for next Monday at the home of Mrs. Wilson.

AND this evening Miss Ruth Ann Scott, a bride-elect of the very near future, will be honored when Mrs. William Debus is a hostess at her home. The guests, all old high school friends of the bride-to-be, will present her with a personal shower.

On Monday evening Miss Scott will again be an honoree when Mrs. William Hammel and her daughter, Miss Beverly Hammel, are hostesses at a kitchen shower at their home.

JUST learned of another anniversary party—On Sunday Mr. and Mrs. Arthur E. Perry will be honored on their 25th wedding anniversary when members of their family entertain at dinner on Sunday at the Capital Hotel. Out of town guests will be Mr. and Mrs. E. L. Perry of Holdrege.

To Honor Bride-Elect

In pre-nuptial courtesy to Miss Ruth Ann Scholl, whose bethrothal to James D. Gekas of Lincoln was announced recently, Mrs. Kenneth Kuhlman, Mrs. Bob Viox and Miss Arline Heideman will entertain Friday evening at the home of Mrs. Viox.

Following an informal dessert supper, a miscellaneous shower will be presented to the bride-elect.

Miss Scholl has announced that her wedding will take place on Tuesday, Nov. 6, and the ceremony will be solemnized at 3 o'clock in the afternoon at the First Baptist Church.

Miss Sophia Gekas, sister of Mr. Gikas, will attend Miss Scholl as maid of honor, and serving as best man will be Donald Scholl of Tecumseh, brother of the bride-to-be.

BSP Members Hear Talks

Mrs. Jack Cederdahl and Mrs. Bert Hotchkiss were co-hostesses Tuesday evening to the members of Zeta Chapter, Beta Sigma Phi, at the group's regular meeting.

Miss Jean Ahern presided at the meeting when the program, "Jewelry," was given by Mrs. Roger Bell.

Guests of the group were Miss Lois Bromer, Miss Joan Rustermeier, Miss Donna Dewey, Mrs. Jean Mackey and Mrs. Clyde Moon.

The regular meeting of Delta Chapter, Beta Sigma Phi, was held Monday evening at the home of Miss Meredith Siddens. The program, "Jewelry", was given by Miss Rita McKinzie.

The chapter's next meeting will be held at the home of Miss Marjorie Speidel.

Lefler Parents Organize PTA

Parents of pupils attending the new Millard Lefler Junior High School met Wednesday evening at the school to discuss the organization of a Parent-Teacher Association.

Elected temporary chairman was Dr. Harold Hellweg, and temporary secretary is Mrs. V. E. Bender.

Because the new school's auditorium is not completed, the group was seated in the corridors of the building. With back to camera at left is Mrs. Bender, and seated in the first row are Mrs. Kathryn Hurst, school principal, and Mrs. W. W. McDermet (at right), president of the Lincoln Council of Parents and Teachers.

St. Teresa Mothers Meet

At the Wednesday afternoon meeting of St. Teresa Home and School Association, Mrs. A. Q. Schimmel was guest speaker.

A talk on Unifest, the Hallowe'en fund drive for the children of United Nations, was given by Mrs. Ray Jensen, and Msgr. M. M. Kaczmarek spoke on, "Counter Fraternity of Christian Mothers."

The first grade rooms received awards for having the most mothers at the meeting, and hostesses for the social hour were Mrs. Don Trumble, chairman, Mrs. Salvador Quattrocchi, Mrs. Harold Fouts, Mrs. John Rose, Mrs. Lawrence Parsons and Mrs. Al Van Gundy.

Officers of the organization are Mrs. Earl H. Brady, president; Mrs. Emil Janousek, vice president; Mrs. Warren Englehard, secretary; and Mrs. Glen Laughlin, treasurer.

Had Church Wedding

MRS. DUANE NELSON

The marriage of Miss Marcella Ortmeier of Lincoln, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Alois C. Ortmeier of Beemer, to Duane Nelson, also of Lincoln, son of Mr. and Mrs. Raymond Nelson of Ashland, took place at a morning ceremony on Saturday, Sept. 17, at St. Mary's Cathedral. The Rev. Conrad Marrama solemnized the 11 o'clock service before a background of garden blossoms, and the wedding music was played by Miss Catherine Gillespie, organist, who also accompanied the vocal soloist, Jack Alkire.

Wearing identically styled frocks of crystalette, the attendants were Miss Celine Ortmeier of Beemer, who was her sister's maid of honor, and who appeared in the ice-blue shade; Miss Marian Ludwig, Beemer; Mrs. Don Brichacek, Prague; Mrs. James Estes, Neah Bay, Wash., and Miss Doris Hansen, all in the French blue tone. The frocks were designed with fitted bodices above wide, waltz-length skirts. Their picture hats reflected the shades of their frocks and each carried a colonial bouquet of American Beauty roses. Joan and Patty Nellor were the flower girls, and Vernon Ortmeier carried the ring.

Max Barnes of Ashland served Mr. Nelson as best man, and seating the guests were LeRoy Eaton, Bernard Eaton, Jack Draper and Lester Daft.

For her wedding the bride chose a gown of white crystalette over white taffeta. Scallops contoured the portrait neckline and brief sleeves of the fitted bodice, and were repeated at the hem of the bouffant, floor-length skirt. Her fingertip veil of illusion was held to the head with a beaded tiara, and she carried a colonial bouquet of American Beauty roses, centered with a white orchid.

C Of C Women New Members

At the monthly dinner-meeting of the Chamber of Commerce Women's Division Wednesday evening, Miss Grace A. Trott introduced the following new members; Mrs. Catherine Bruce, Miss Dorothy Dixon, Miss Harriet Turner, Miss Ethel M. Johnson, Mrs. Bernice Touzalin, Miss Lucille Otto, Mrs. Ruth Hutchins, Mrs. Estella Kern, Miss Celestine Brock, Miss Fern McBride and Mrs. Alta Kelly.

The new members will be honored at a brunch on Sunday morning, Oct. 30, when members of the orientation committee will be hostesses.

The division has scheduled a tour to Omaha and Boys Town for Sunday, Oct. 23, and another Omaha tour on Nov. 5. On Nov. 4, members whose birthday anniversaries occur in October, November and December will be honored at a birthday party at the Chamber of Commerce.

Mrs. Margaret Grabill demonstrated holiday gift wrapping, and a demonstration on how to make holiday decorations was given by Miss Thelma Tincher. The program, under the direction of Miss Mayme Stukel, also featured an exhibit of members' hobbies and collections.

To Entertain

Mrs. Fred Deweese and Miss Ober will entertain at a "gallery" party Friday evening at the University of Nebraska art galleries where an exhibit of contemporary handwoven articles is being featured.

Guests will be the members of the Lincoln Handweavers Guild.

Housing Request Sent To Washington

Defense Dept., AF Secretary Get Final Say

Lincoln Air Force officials said a decision should be reached in Washington "in several weeks" on the application for construction of 1,140 housing units on the Lincoln Air Force Base.

Application for approval of the construction has been sent to the Secretary of the Air Force. The final decision will be made by the secretary and Defense Department officials.

According to LAFB officials, the entire number could be approved or it could be altered some either up or down. The final approved number of units will depend on needs at bases throughout the county and available funds, they said.

Some Problem Anyway

Regardless of the number, any on-base housing is expected to create some school problems. If no school is provided at the base, children of families living there would have to be transported into the Lincoln District.

Superintendent of Schools Steven N. Watkins stated that this would undoubtedly mean half-day sessions for those youngsters. With the children living in Lincoln, he said, they are spread out in a number of schools.

If transported from the Base, he said, they would be taken into one school only which would overload that single facility.

If the government would build a school on the base, there would only be routine operational problems, Watkins said. However, he added, this would not be done until the houses were built and occupied, leaving a transportation problem during the period of erection of the school.

In explaining the housing program to a group of Lincoln businessmen and officials, Gen. Claude E. Putnam said it is possible that the government would approve construction of a school at the base. This determination would be made, he said, by the Department of Health and Welfare and based on the need.

Putnam's explanation of the need for on-base housing drew protests from Ervin E. Peterson, past president of the Lincoln Home Builders Association.

Peterson said it was not proven that the housing was needed and that Lincoln builders and businessmen have planned on providing the needed housing on the assumption that only 400 on-base housing units would be constructed.

West Lincoln School In Use

Two classrooms in the new addition to the West Lincoln elementary school are being used this fall. The District 126 building was begun in May and is to be completed by Dec. 1. Glenn Turner, county superintendent of school, said there are seven teachers on the faculty and 175 children enrolled. The building and remodeling of the old building was financed by a $91,000 bond issue passed in the spring of 1955. Playing before the addition are the third and fourth grade girls in the class taught by Mrs. L. J. Allen.

Scout Train Trip To Draw 1,800 Boys

More than 1,800 boys and leaders will take part Friday in the second annual Boy Scout train trip. St. Augustine Indian Mission at Winnebago will play host to the 44 Lincoln troops, packs and posts and 15 out-of-town units.

The trip, sponsored jointly by the Boy Scout Cornhusker Council and Lincoln Rail Fans Club, will be headed by Arnold Barager.

Boys from Lincoln, York, Beatrice, Jansen, Cortland, Alvo, Syracuse, Talmage, Beaver Crossing and Cordova will take part.

Trains will leave Burlington Depot at 7:30 a.m. and 8 a.m. and return at 4 p.m.

At Winnebago the boys will visit the Mission Indian School. Entertainment, provided by adult and Indian children, will feature a teen-age group who won national recognition on the Strike It Rich television show. A teepee will be set up on the grounds.

The purpose of the trip, according to sponsors, is to make it possible for the boys to have an opportunity to ride on a train. Last year it was found that 90 per cent of the boys had never been on a train.

Farmers Club Told More Efficient Production Means Bigger Profits

The way to increase farm profits is through increasing volume of production by using efficient methods and facilities, members of the Farmers Club were told at their first meeting of the season.

Tom Locke of Spencer, Ia., with the staff of the Industrial Research Division of the Doane Agricultural Service, illustrated the planning of efficient building and production systems with slides.

In discussing how to build a good net profit from farming, Locke said it boils down to a system applicable to any business: profit equals volume times price minus costs.

Price cannot be controlled, he continued, although by good management the farmer can sell at the most advantageous time and follow other procedures to get the best price possible.

He also can do very little in cutting costs, for the farmer must continue to use new methods. He can't increase profits by reverting to old methods, Locke explained.

Therefore, the solution is in increasing volume, he stated. The farmer must raise production per man by using modern farm buildings and production systems.

"Every system must be flexible. It must be adjusted to changes. There is a production trend toward specialization and production systems. This leads to higher costs," Locke said. He said sometimes it is necessary to change the entire method to increase production.

Locke, who himself has a dairy farm in Wisconsin, showed charts of costs of labor, feed and handling in both stanchion barns and the "Doane five-star system."

In the stanchion barn, Locke said, a farmer can net $640 on 40 cows, using two men paid a total of $4000 a year and spending $151 per cow for food. On the other hand, he continued, under the Doane system the farmer can net $4,400 by paying one man $2,000 per year and spending $52 for feeding each cow.

About 50 persons were present at the dinner meeting. President Clifford Jorgensen announced that Mr. and Mrs. Harold Duis have been named to take over the position of secretary, vacated by T. H. Goodding, University of Nebraska professor who is on a leave of absence helping to set up a university in Turkey.

CONVALESCING PRESIDENT HAS VERY QUIET DAY

DENVER (AP) — President Eisenhower put in a "very quiet day" Thursday in a serene 24-hour interlude of rest and relaxation between cabinet-level business conferences.

The President saw Secretary of State Dulles Wednesday and will consult today with Atty. Gen. Brownell. But Thursday he put all official business aside — not even any papers to sign.

Eisenhower did mark up another "first" as his doctors reported continued satisfactory progress in his recovery from a heart attack:

He visited for 15 or 20 minutes in his hospital room with Clifford J. Roberts, the New York investment banker who is an old friend and bridge and golfing companion. It was the first time since his Sept. 24 heart seizure that the chief executive had had a bedside visitor other than members of his family and administration officials.

He sat up in a chair for some 40 minutes and dabbled with his oil paints on a canvas begun yesterday. He's copying a magazine reproduction of a scene of the Rocky Mountains in autumnal colors.

Hunt For Boys' Killer Pressed

CHICAGO (AP) — Handpicked detectives Thursday made a door-to-door search for clues in the slaying of three boys, while a scientist deduced the youths had been given savage beatings by two or more grown men.

The task force of officers hunted in the area where the victims—Robert Peterson, 14, John Schuessler, 13, and his brother, Anton, 11—vanished Sunday night.

Meanwhile, in Brookville, Ind., a 19-year-old girl who went to a priest to confess an automobile theft told authorities there she knew "who the fellows was" in the Chicago triple slaying. Sheriff Joseph Lohman in Chicago said he had not heard from Indiana police but would check with them on the girl's story.

The girl, held without charge in Brookville, said she was in Chicago over the weekend.

A pair of blue jeans, ripped at the seam as if they had been torn off, was found in a vacant lot. This is about a block from the spot where the three youths stepped off a bus at 9 p.m. Sunday.

U.S. Defends Effort To Tag Red Party Subversive

WASHINGTON (INS) — The government defended Thursday its effort to pin a subversive label on the Communist Party as a step to save the U.S. from domination by "a ruthless foreign dictatorship."

In a 307-page brief filed with the Supreme Court, the Justice Department rejected Red claims that the party has "mended its ways" and is now merely a "political" organization.

Rather, the department declared, there is continuing evidence that the party is "directed and controlled by the Soviet Union" to "advance the objectives of the world Communist movement."

The government's position was outlined in answer to the party's appeal to the court to declare unconstitutional the Subversive Activities Control Act of 1950.

Two years ago, the Subversive Activities Control Board ordered the party to register with the government as a subversive organization dominated by Moscow. The order was subsequently upheld by a two-to-one Appeals Court decision.

In the latest development, the Supreme Court agreed to hear Communist arguments against the law which the Reds claim violates free speech and other Constitutional amendments.

With the filing of the government's brief in the case, the high court announced that it would hear arguments from both sides during the week of Nov. 14.

Under the order of the control board, the party would be required to register its financial operations as well as its membership with the government.

Red Documents

The party would be required to identify its publications as Communist documents. Party members would be required to reveal their party affiliations in any attempt to obtain employment in the government or defense industries.

Previously the party filed a lengthy brief with the court declaring that it had been denied a fair hearing by the control board. It charged that the evidence failed to support the board's findings and denied that it was engaged in espionage.

But the government rejected these contentions in its brief filed with the court and said that the 30-year history of the party shows that the Communist Party conspiracy is a "clear and present danger to the existence of free American institutions."

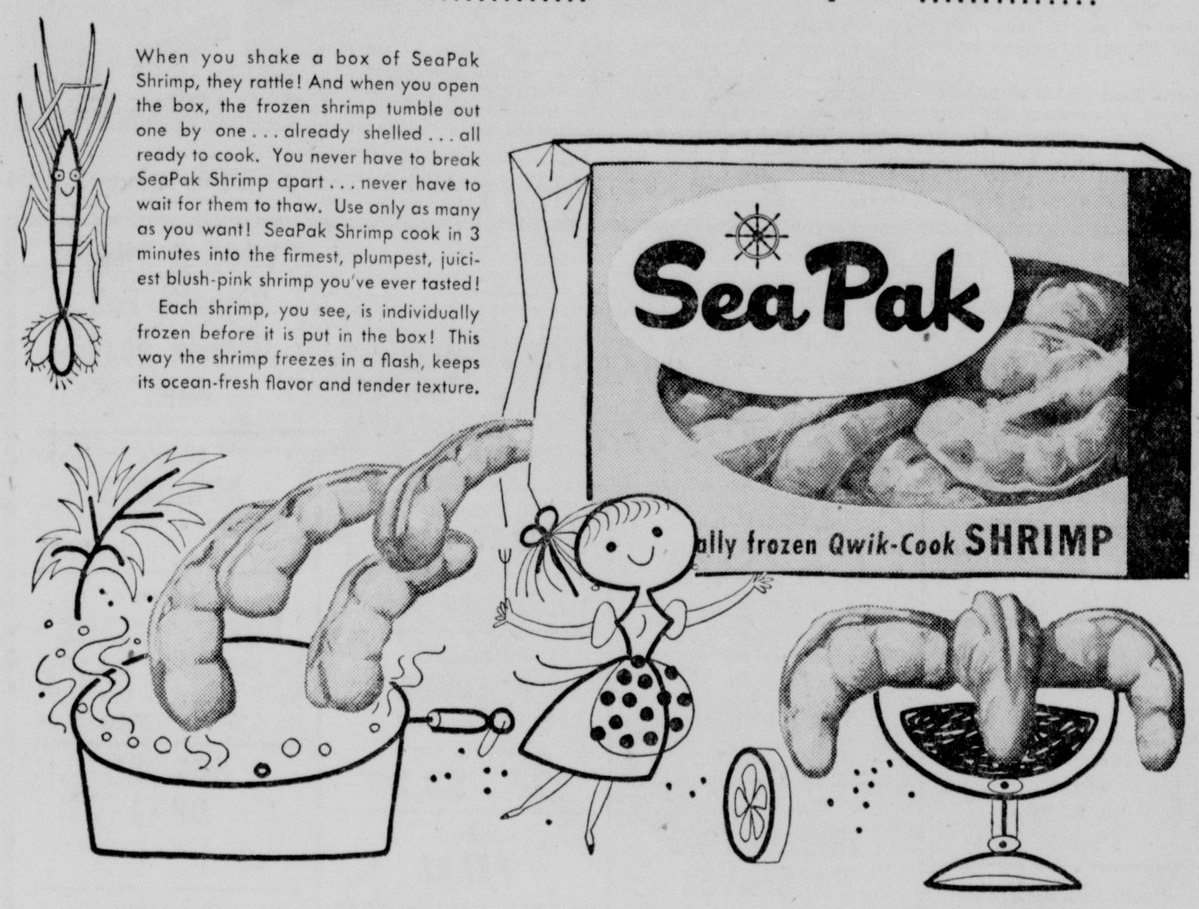

The government said: "If the leaders of the Communist Party may be imprisoned for conspiring to advocate the overthrow of the government by force and violence, certainly the party itself may be compelled to register and disclose its officers, members, funds and operations . . . . .

"Its seditious connection with the Soviet Union plainly warrants the kind of disclosure Congress has required."

Ex-Income Tax Head 'Proper' In Joining Firm In Tax Suit — Humphrey

WASHINGTON (AP) — The secretary of the Treasury has signified that it's all right for T. Coleman Andrews, retiring commissioner of internal revenue, to join a firm with tax troubles.

The go-ahead was given by Secretary George Humphrey after Andrews pledged to take no hand in the tax case.

Humphrey expressed his approval in a letter to Andrews on Oct. 12 and the letter was released today by the Treasury. The Internal Revenue Service is part of the Treasury Department.

Andrews Tells Of Suit

Andrews had informed Humphrey in an Oct. 10 letter that he was becoming chairman of the board and chief executive officer of the American Fidelity & Casualty Co., Richmond, Va., at the end of the month.

He added that the Revenue Service is pushing a 5½-million-dollar tax claim against the company and its wholly owned subsidiary, Markel Services, Inc.

But Andrews assured his present boss that he intended to divorce himself completely from the tax proceedings.

Humphrey, in his reply, thanked Andrews for the information and said:

"It seems to me that this has been properly handled, and I see no reason for you to change your proposed method of conduct."

The letter was signed, "Best wishes, Sincerely, George."

Andrews himself called the question "academic."

In a telephone interview he gave three reasons why he thought it was academic.

The first, he said, was that American Fidelity representatives made it clear to him that they wanted a chief executive, not a tax man.

"These gentlemen added that the company's dispute over its income taxes had been going on for several years," Andrews said in the interview, "that the company long since had employed tax counsel, and that it was satisfied with the manner in which the case had been and was being handled.

"In the second place, if I were interested in profiting from my experience as commissioner, I would have gone back to accounting practice . . .

"In the third place, the company's contract with me does not require anything of me with regard to the handling of its tax case, and I do not propose to participate in the handling of it . . ."

Andrews, 56, had operated his own accounting firm in Richmond for many years before being chosen by President Eisenhower in February 1953, to become the nation's chief tax collector. Andrews was one of Virginia's "Democrats for Eisenhower" in 1952.

He took over his federal post at a time when the Revenue Service was under charges of favoritism and laxness. In announcing his resignation last Saturday, Andrews said he had accomplished what he had set out to do—restore the prestige of the Internal Revenue Service.

Elks Give $6,250 To National Fund

A check for $6,250 for the Elks National Trust Fund was presented to the grand exalted ruler of the Elks during his visit to Elks Lincoln Lodge 80.

The check given to John L. Walker of Roanoke, Va., represented 204 new subscribers to the fund.

The national fund is allocated to the state organizations and used for charitable purposes. In Nebraska the emphasis is on crippled children and scholarship programs, Walker said.

George Vanicek Listed A Suicide

The death of George E. Vanicek, 45, who farmed near Ceresco, was listed as a suicide by the Lancaster County Attorney's office.

His body was found Wednesday night in a vacant house on land he rented from a neighbor about a mile and a half from his farm.

The 12-guage shot gun wound in his upper abdomen was self-inflicted sometime Sunday night, according to the coroner's report.

Born in Saunders County, Mr. Vanicek farmed two miles west of SCO AND NORTH OF Lincoln.

He is survived by his wife, Dorothy, and a son, Crrol Dean, in the Navy, and daughters, Mary and Dorothy at home.

M'Connell Is Named To Advisory Group

WASHINGTON (AP) — R. A. McConnell Jr., editor of the Lincoln Journal, has been named by Secretary Benson to an advisory committee on soil and water conservation. The 18-member group will hold its first meeting here Nov. 27 and 28.

NOW! YOU, TOO, CAN ENJOY HOVIS BREAD!

Travellers rave about the fine food served aboard the famous Queen Mary. And what will you find at the Captain's table? You'll find famous Hovis Bread!

If you've travelled abroad, perhaps you've noticed that in the smartest places . . . on crack ocean liners and the best trains . . . in homes "that set a good table" . . . HOVIS BREAD is most popular.

Now, with special arrangements and using Hovis's 65-year-old recipe, this fine, delicious bread is available at your nearest food store!

Yes! from the same Duncan Hines mix!

marvelous muffins or glamorous party dessert

You're looking at two wonderful reasons why Duncan Hines Blueberry Muffin Mix should be a "regular" on your pantry shelf.

Wouldn't it be nice to have blueberry muffins when there's a simple meal to dress up, or a leisurely Sunday breakfast to enjoy? In less time than it takes to tell, you can have them ready for the oven . . . and what a treat they are, warm and fragrant from the oven!

And with the same mix you can turn out a party dessert that will do you proud. Looks fancy? Yes, but it's so easy.

You'll notice a special, tangy taste about these blueberries. They're wild blueberries, the most flavorful kind . . . Duncan Hines insists on them for his mix.

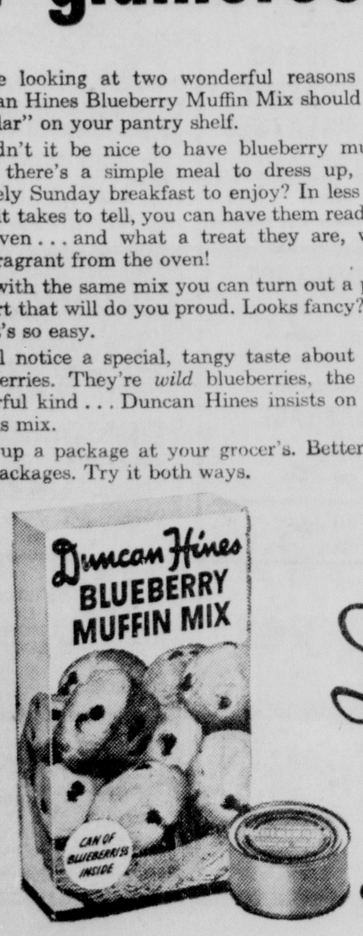

Pick up a package at your grocer's. Better still, two packages. Try it both ways.

Cake Roll—Beat 3 eggs until thick. Stir in ½ cup sugar and one package Duncan Hines Blueberry Muffin Mix. Add ¼ cup water; mix gently (do not overmix). Spread in greased and floured jelly roll pan (10½ x 15½ in.). Bake 10 minutes in 400° oven. Turn out on towel sprinkled with powdered sugar. Starting at short side, roll up cake and towel together; cool.

Blueberry Sauce—Drain juice from the can of blueberries into measuring cup; add enough water to make 1 cup. In saucepan, mix 1½ Tblsp. cornstarch, ⅓ cup sugar, ⅛ tsp. cinnamon. Stir in juice. Cook and stir until thick and clear. Reduce heat; cook 5 minutes more. Stir in 1 Tblsp. lemon juice, 2 Tblsp. butter or margarine, and blueberries.

To Serve—Unroll cake and remove towel. Place a quart brick (or 2 pints) vanilla ice cream in center. Fold ends of cake around ice cream; put on platter. Pour on warm blueberry sauce.

Chest Drive Climbs Past Half Mark

The United Campaign of the Community Chest and Red Cross has now passed the half-way mark.

An additional $46,516 was turned in Thursday to bring the total to $290,975 or 55 per cent of the $531,592 goal.

James Stuart, general chairman, expressed concern over the drive saying that the campaign should produce approximately 70 per cent during the first week in order for the goal to be attained.

The advance gifts division reported $30,268 Thursday which brings its total to $165,087 or 58 per cent of its goal of $278,945.

POSTCARD

A man named Mr. Willie Necker has written a book, "How to Train the Family Dog." And Grosset & Dunlap sent me a copy. They couldn't have sent to to a better man.

This is a good book, with plenty of illustrations, and costs only $1. Which is as much as anybody should sink in dog-training books. Any more would be a mistake. Because training a dog works only half way. The other half is how he trains you.

I am a well-trained dog owner and I think my boxer is proud of me. He has to snap me up once in a while. But mainly I am obedient and handle well.

My boxer's name is Carmichael (though I call him Mike.) During the nine years we have been together he has been patient and taught me quite a bit.

Mr. Necker says one of the best things a dog can learn is "No."

Mike has learned "No." But I had to learn that I don't really mean it. This was hard for me to learn. But he kept at me and now I know.

Take when this dog was a puppy. Boxers are pretty big to begin with. When this dog got to be around a year old, he considered he was still a puppy. He liked to sit in my lap. He weighed about 80 pounds.

When I tried to push him off my lap—"No! No!"—he bit me. He said it was nothing. Just firmness. Didn't even break the skin. He growled horribly.

After that I got out of the chair when he came around. Provided no lap. That will cure him, I said.

Well, this suited Mike just fine. He climbed into the chair with a deep sigh. Nowadays he bites me if I sit in his chair. I don't dare sit in the chair while he is in the house. If I sit in the chair and he sees me through the window, he barks like crazy.

Then I get up and go sit on the couch. The couch is not as comfortable. But it is safer. All mine.

We went through most of the dog-training book during our first year together. But we gave up a lot of it as useless.

We gave up "Stay." When you say "Stay," your dog is supposed to stay there. This dog doesn't care to stay anywhere very long. It bores him. He likes to move around and check the action.

I used to threaten him. But after he drove me out of my own chair he knew he had me. My spirit was broken.

We have dropped "Heel." Also the leash. All dogs should walk quietly on a leash, Mr. Necker says. But Mike feels that a leash is put on him because he is a killer.

Actually he is a rather mild dog. But when he is on a leash he screams at other dogs.

"If I was off this leash, I'd show you!" he screams. "They keep me on this leash because I'm a killer!"

The other dogs, not being on a leash, come over to check the statement. Mike expects me to get in the fray and bite the other dog on the hind leg. I have been involved in many dog fights.

I wish Mr. Necker had said something about how to keep a dog from worrying.

My dog worries almost all the time. Though it is hard to figure with a boxer, since they have a naturally worried expression.

He has a face a good deal like my banker when I am renewing the loan.

I cannot figure why he is worried. Because as near as I can see the only interest he has in life is eating. I think maybe he worries about where his next meal is coming from. Though he knows perfectly well it comes right out of the ice box.

There is also nothing in the book about what to do about dog hiccups I have tried giving him sips of water. Once I tried putting a paper sack over his head. He has never forgiven me for it.

Anyway, it is nice to have a trained dog around the house. But you have to have a trained man to go with him.

Spud Worker Supply Now Said Adequate

SCOTTSBLUFF, Neb. (AP) — In the wake of reports of a serious shortage of potato picking crews in the Scottsbluff area, the word from J. Earl Horton, state employment service office director, is that there's now an adequate labor supply for the harvest.

Another week of good weather and most of the potatoes will be picked, his office said.

Rural School Children Get Flag

Swindler To Address

FREMONT, Neb., (AP)—The Freedom of the Press Conference at Midland College, Nov. 17, will hear Dr. William F. Swindler, head of the School of Journalism at the University of Nebraska.

It gets old, dingy nylon white again!

It gets all wash the whitest ever!

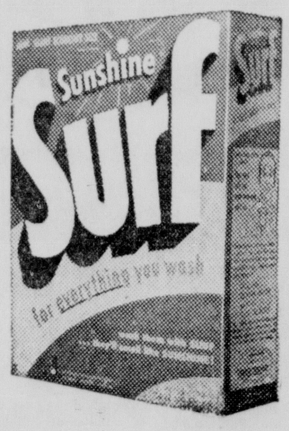

It's SURF with scientific new ultraviolet whitener

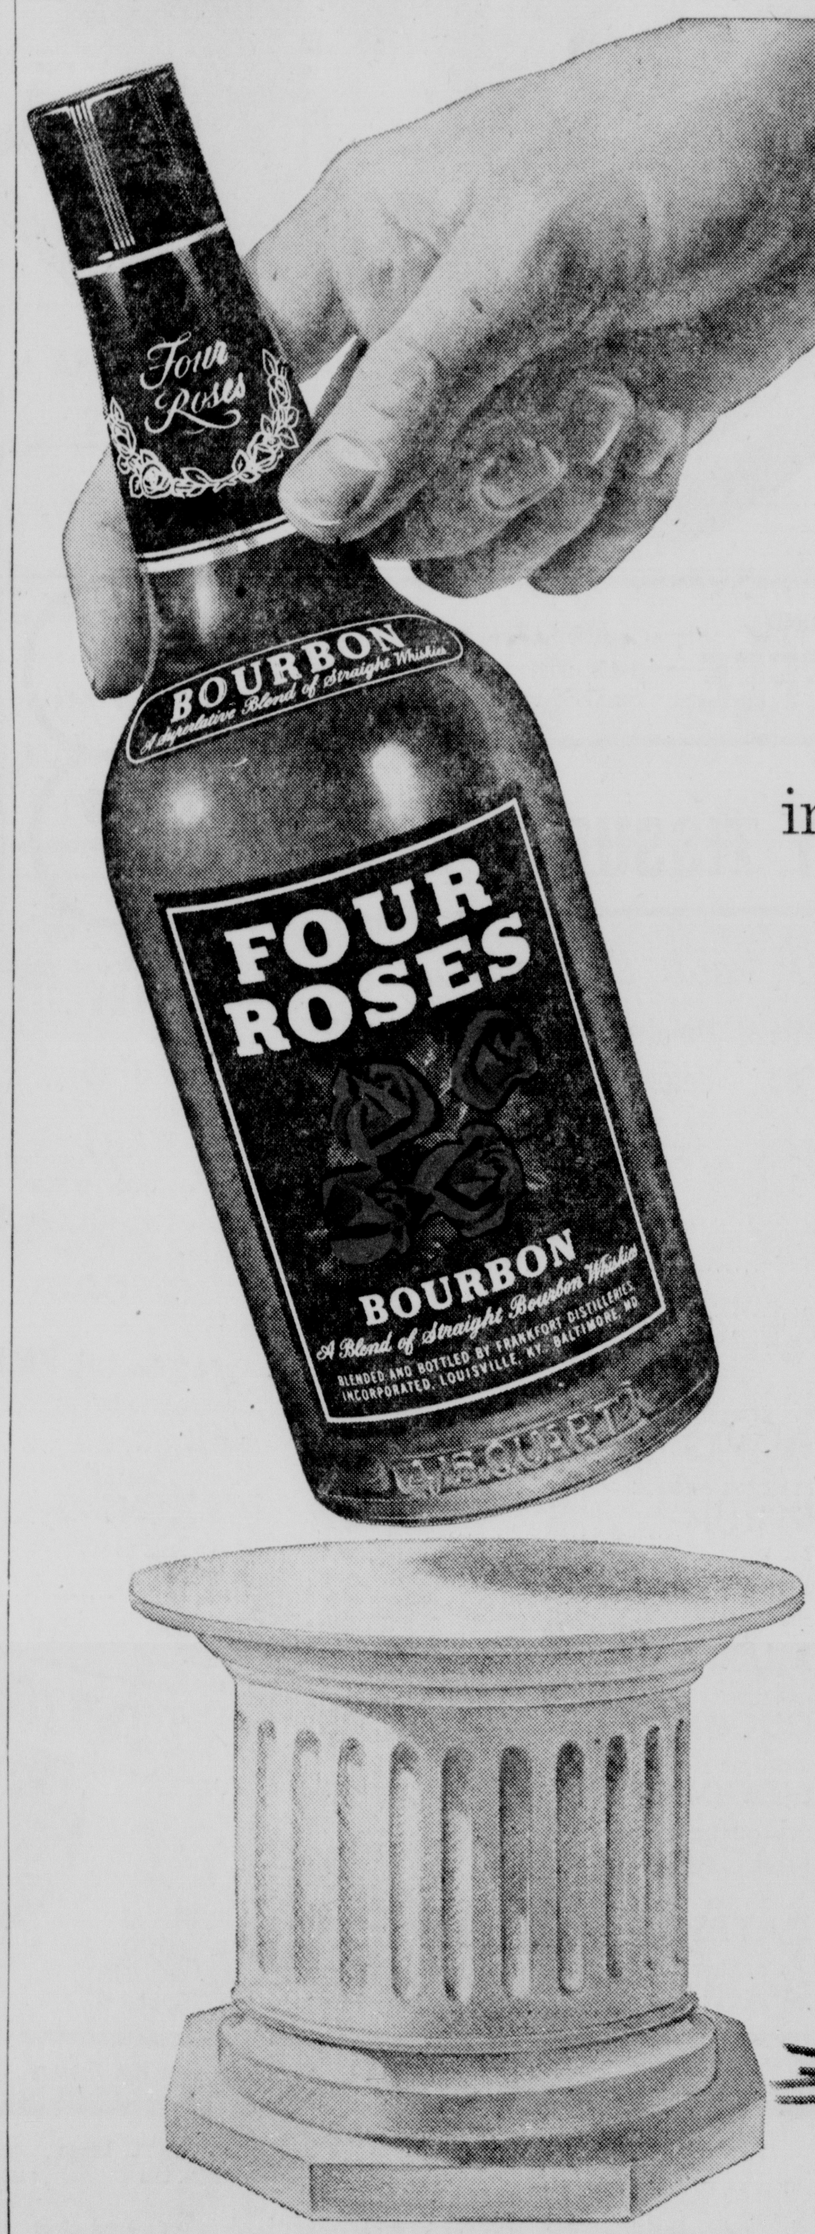

Here's the answer to the washing problem that's stumped just about every woman in the country! It's Surf, with a new scientific whitener that puts the power of ultraviolet rays (like those in sunshine) to work for you. And it works whether you dry indoors or out!

Right away you'll see that it keeps nylon white. After several washes, you'll also see that it gets old nylon white again! No bleach or bluing needed. Nothing extra to buy. Surf alone does the job. In fact, no other detergent can get all your wash (cotton-rayon-nylon) as white and clean as Surf with the ultraviolet whitener. Yet it's safe for all fabrics – and mild to hands, too!

What's more, you've got to agree that Surf actually does all we say it will or we'll return every penny you paid. Better put it on your shopping list right now!

Now...Four Roses

introduces a companion...

Four Roses BOURBON

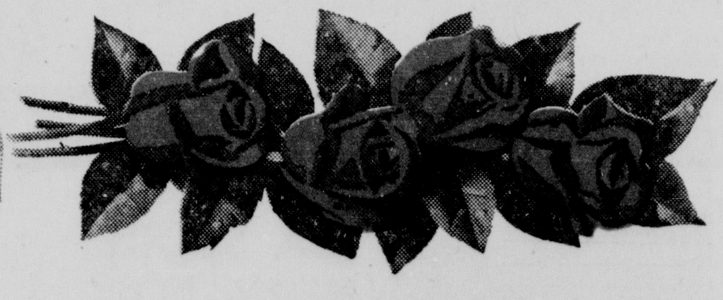

Today—as in the past— Four Roses Blended Whiskey stands out as the whiskey we firmly believe to be the finest in America.

Millions share this belief... and have proved it by buying more Four Roses than any other whiskey at or above its price.

Now—just for those who drink bourbon—the makers of Four Roses are introducing Four Roses Bourbon—a whiskey which we know to be head and shoulders above any other bourbon in America.

For it is more than just a single fine whiskey. It is a skillful blending of several straight bourbon whiskies—each contributing its own particular virtue... aroma, body, smoothness, mellowness. In no other way is it possible to achieve a bourbon of the finest flavor and quality—a bourbon that is truly uniform from bottle to bottle, from year to year.

If you are a bourbon drinker, be sure to try this magnificent bourbon today.

IT COULD ONLY 'HAPPEN' TO MARTIN AND LEWIS

LAS VEGAS, Nev. (AP) — This gambling resort loves publicity.

When a couple of characters like Dean Martin and Jerry Lewis come to town, it would be a sad day indeed if the local press agents failed to capitalize on them.

Take this for instance. There were Dean and Jerry, lounging around the Sands Hotel, waiting for a plane to return them to Hollywood after a brief vacation.

According to the hotel's publicity man, this is what happened:

The comics sat down at a blackjack table and began playing — and cutting up. In no time at all they had edged out dealer Abe Finke of Newark, N. J., and were passing out cards, advice and money to patrons.

More than 100 people gathered. And no wonder. The boys were paying off double, triple and then some. They peeked at players' hole cards, gave them better ones if they needed them. They screamed at those that rejected advice.

The press agent quoted manager Jack Entratter as saying the shenanigans cost the hotel $74,895 before the funnymen left after half an hour, although how so precise a figure was arrived at was not explained.

But the loss, said Entratter, was "nothing compared to the two million dollars in good-will with the public."

Going to move? Then notify the Circulation Dept. so you won't miss your paper. Be sure to give both old and new address.

WILBUR

AF ROTC Honors 9 Cadets

Nine University of Nebraska Air ROTC seniors have been selected "distinguished military students," Col. Joseph A. Stenglein, professor of air science, announced.

Col. Stenglein said selections were based on superior academic achievements and outstanding leadership qualities.

He said the award makes the recipients candidates for regular commissions in the U.S. Air Force.

Honored were:

Cadet Maj. Wallis R. Cramond, son of Lt. Col. and Mrs. W. R. Cramond, Cheyenne, Wyo.

Cadet Maj. Timothy S. Hamilton, son of Mr. and Mrs. P. C. Hamilton, Pierre, S. D.

One Thing Sure In Nebraska Power Dilemma—State To Need More

OMAHA (AP)—There's one face in Nebraska's current out-state power dilemma that nobody disputes.

The state is going to need a lot more power and it's going to need it on a steadily mounting upward curve.

The Federal Power Commission estimates that this year's 600,000 plus kilowatts of generating capacity in Nebraska will have to be swelled to 1,100,000 by 1960.

Both the Nebraska Public Power System and Consumers Public Power district regard this is a "conservative estimate.

NPPS estimates the combined output of its system and that of the Omaha Public Power district should reach 1,015,000 including reserves by 1959. Of this, the net capability of the two agencies would be 865,000 kilowatts.

This does not include independent municipal systems capable of producing more than 100,000 kilowatts and possibly in need of 150,000 kilowatts by 1960, the western system of Consumers Public Power District, now producing around 30,000 kilowatts and rural districts in western Nebraska getting around 30,000 kilowatts from the Bureau of Reclamation.

All these added together top the FPC estimate of 1,100,000 kilowatts of demand.

General Manager R. L. Schacht of Consumers said that the load in Nebraska, particularly in the eastern part of the state during the last three summers is "considerably above that any of us had been estimating."

Where is it coming from?

To begin with the Omaha Public Power District, serving a heavy population area in Omaha and its environs, can be pretty well written off. OPPD has one big addition under construction and if its directors follow the same policy they have in the past there'll be another under discussion within the next few months. These additions will account for about 402,000 kilowatts of the anticipated demand.

Nebraska Public Power System estimates it will have to meet a demand of 584,000 kilowatts in 1960.

Here are the prospects that have been advanced so far:

The Central Nebraska Tri-County Public Power and Irrigation District, expects to have a 100,000 kilowatt capacity plant in operation about 24 months hence. Although Tri-County pulled out of NPPS several years ago to concentrate on irrigation obligations, it has continued to sell power to NPPS. General Manager R. O. Canaday said the proposed new plant would fit in very well with its irrigation operations in that it would make possible the storing of more water for irrigation in dry years.

Consumers Public Power District is most hopeful that the Atomic Energy Commisson will approve a 75,000 kilowatt sodium graphite reactor plant. But that approval still has not been received.

Mid-State Reclamation District proposes to add another 60,000 kilowatts of capacity through a chain of small hydro plants, but Mid-State still hasn't resolved its differences with the federal government over financing.

REA's Consider

Ten Northeast Nebraska Rural Public Power Districts are looking into the possibility of constructing a plant which would add another 500 Kilowatts of Power. And a similar group of southeast Nebraska rural power districts is looking into this possibility, attracted by the prospect of cheap money—2 per cent federal loans.

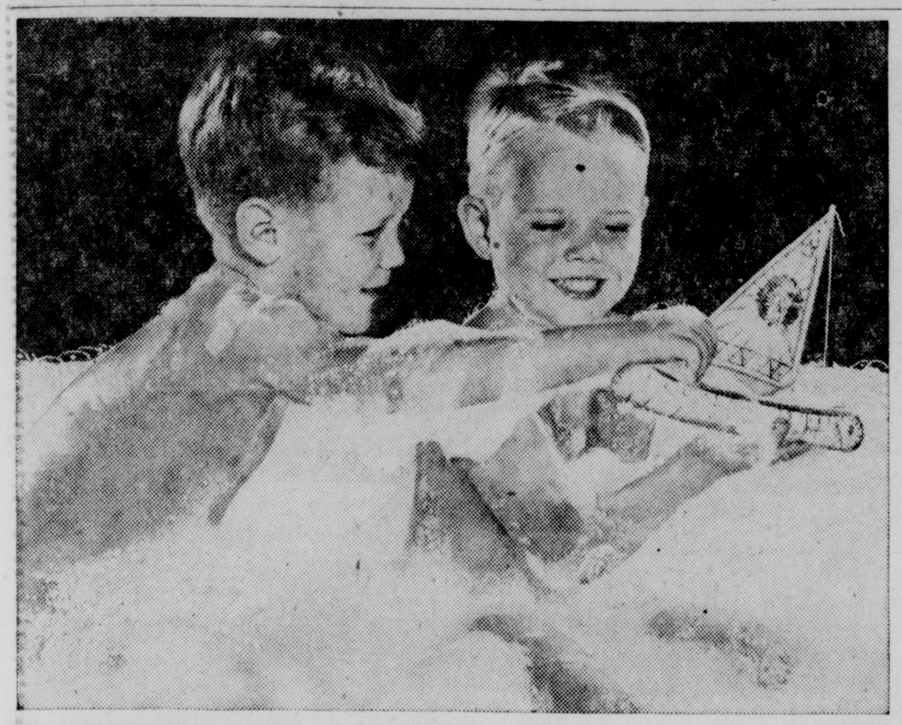

And, of course, NPPS wants to build another 100,000 Kilowatt generating plant, to go into service in 1958 and another in 1959.

Although the Tri-County plant could take the place of the 1958 venture. This has been stalemated by the long drawn out lawsuit, which is now before the state supreme court.

In addition NPPS is confident it can get an additional 50,000 kilowatts of hydroelectric power from the Bureau of Reclamation for summer peak loads to take care of growing irrigation and air conditioning needs.

If all of these things should come to pass Nebraska's power needs would be taken care of well into the future. But as of now only the Tri-County plant appears to be an immediate possibility.

Going to move soon? Be sure to notify the Circulation Department, giving both your old and new address.—Adv.

3 times your money back if your favorite macaroni dish made with SKINNER's doesn't taste better and look better. You be the judge.

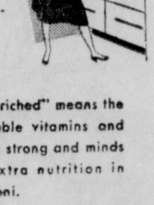

Look for it! Skinner Macaroni and Spaghetti on your grocer's shelf at thrifty, new low prices! And Skinner also makes you a triple money-back guarantee to acquaint you with the better quality of Skinner Macaroni, Spaghetti and Pure Egg Noodles. There are good reasons why Skinner Macaroni products are better. Skinner Macaroni products are vitamin enriched. Skinner uses more Durum Wheat—the kind that makes the best macaroni. Durum Wheat costs much more: $3.05 per bushel compared to spring wheat at $2.38*. But Skinner gladly pays more to give you the very best macaroni, spaghetti and noodles money can buy.

Skinner Macaroni gives you...

BETTER FLAVOR—Skinner Macaroni has a flavor and goodness that's hard to match, because Skinner uses more Durum Wheat than most macaronis. You can actually taste the difference.

BETTER COOKING—Because it has more Amber Durum Wheat, Skinner Macaroni stays plump, firm and appetizing while cooking to tender perfection. You just can't get pasty, mushy macaroni casseroles with Skinner.

MORE NUTRITION—"Enriched" means the addition of three valuable vitamins and iron to help keep bodies strong and minds alert. You get this extra nutrition in Skinner Enriched Macaroni.

Bayard Grower Wins State Wheat Championship

The reserve championship went to another Bayard grower, Rolland R. Robert. His entry, testing 63.0, was also Cheyenne.

C. J. Ramig, Bayard, the 1953 grand champion, took state championship certified seed exhibitor honors with another entry of the Cheyenne variety. It tested 62.8.

A record 352 peck samples were entered. They came from 57 counties, also a new record.

All the way across this is the best wheat in the history of the Nebraska Wheat Show. The eastern and central region wheat was particularly outstanding in comparison to previous years. The western region wheat, however, was on a par with other years."

Honorable mention in the statewide competition went to Don Wallen of McCook certified Cheyenne testing 63.3; D. J. Watson, Alliance, Cheyenne, 62.5; Wayne E. Ramig, Bayard, Nebred, 62; Floyd M. Bose, Stratton, certified Cheyenne, 62.4; Lynn Wallen, McCook, certified Cheyenne, 63.3 and George Hosea, Wilsonville, Cheyenne 62.6.

In the junior division open to 4-H and FFA members, Ronald Wach of Hamlet was tops in the Western division, Arlen Rathe, Culbertson, in the central and Reuben Naber, York, in the east.

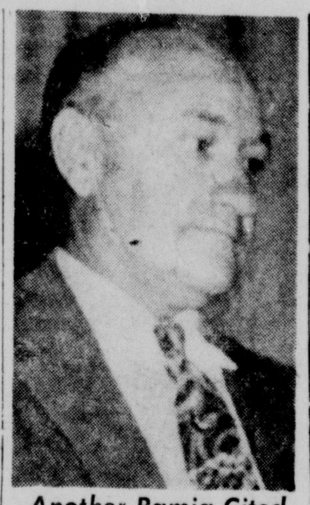

Certified seed division winter wheat (open only to producers of certified wheat seed): Western—1. C. J. Ramig, Bayard (certified Cheyenne, 62.8); 2. Fred N. Elmquist, Potter (certified Cheyenne, 62.3); 3. C. J. Ramig, Bayard (certified Nebred, 62.4). Central—1. Don Wallen, McCook (certified Cheyenne, 63.3); 2. Lynn Wallen, McCook (certified Cheyenne, 63.3); 3. Don Wallen, McCook (certified Nebred, 63.6). Eastern—August H. Hoppe, Jansen (certified Pawnee, 63.3); 2. Honor M. Oschsner, Madison (certified Pawnee, 62.8); 3. Edwin Damkroger & Sons, DeWitt (certified Pawnee, 62.5).

Top exhibitors in winter wheat, junior division by regions (open to 4H and FFA members who carried winter wheat project in 1955): Western—1. Ronald Wach, Hamlet (Nebred, 63); 2. Stanley Jorgensen, Sidney (Cheyenne, 62.6); 3. Gilbert Grady, Brady (Nebred, 62.3). Central—Arlan Rathe Culbertson (Cheyenne, 62-8); 2. Jim Englund, Holdrege (Nebred, 61); 3. Logan Heil, Loup City (Nebred, 60.9. Eastern Rueben Naber, York (Pawnee, 62.1); 2. Glen Lefler, Fairmont (Pawnee, 61.8); 3. Richard Perkins, Fairmont (Pawnee, 61.8).

In the open class division, winter wheat (top 10 winter wheat entries selected for each of three regions from the top-ranking entries in market, certified and junior division): Western—1. Wayne E. Ramig, (Cheyenne, 63.5); 2. Rolland R. Roberts, Bayard (Cheyenne, 63.); 3. D. J. Watson, Alliance (Cheyenne 62.5). Central—1. Don Wallen, McCook (Cheynne, 63.3); 2. Lynn Wallen, McCook (certified Cheyenne, 63.3); 3. George Hosea, Wilsonville, (Cheyenne, 62.6). Eastern—1. August H. Hoppe, Jansen, (certified Pawnee, 63.3); 2. Lad H. Cihal, Wahoo (Cheyenne, 63.3); 3. Honor M. Ochsner, Madison (certified Pawnee, 62.8).

Market division, winter wheat: Western—1. Wayne E. Ramig, Bayard (Cheyenne, 63.5); 2. Rolland R. Roberts, Bayard (Cheyenne, 63.0); 3. D. J. Watson, Alliance (Cheyenne 62.5). Central—1. Beatrice Team Places First

Norfolk Mare Wins Honors

KANSAS CITY (AP) — The $1,000 stake for five-gaited mares in the American Royal Horse Show went to Shennondale, a 6-year-old Nebraska horse.

Dream Waltz, from the Dodge Stables of Lexington, Ky., placed second and Beloved Belinda, owned by Miss Joan Robinson of Houston, Tex., was third.

Here is a pleasant little game that will give you a message every day. It is a numerical puzzle designed to spell out your fortune. Count the letters in your first name. If the number of letters is 6 or more, subtract 4. If the number is less than 6, add three. The result is your key number. Start at the upper left-hand corner of the rectangle and check every one of your key numbers, left to right. Then read the message the letters under the checked figures give you.

BAERING DOWN ON THE NEWS By Arthur 'Bugs' Baer

Bugs Baer

We concede the polls are sincere as a cannibal sharpening his teeth. But coming events cast their shadows before and 10 times as long.

Nixon leads a certain poll which we cannot mention by name. But we happen to be a bird who can dive into a hog wallow and come up with a rose in our hair.

That poll once threatened to sue this writer for defamation of second guesses and malicious bewilderment. What we claim is: Leading a poll in October, 1955, is stacking your waffles before the syrup is hot.

The polls took a beating in 1948 that would have soured a bass drum in Glasgow. Now they're back reading the tea leaves and throwing strikes with the crystal ball.

Philippine Army May Use Bows And Arrows

MANILA (AP) — The Philippine army soon may stalk the Communists' Huks in the jungles with bow and arrow.

Army officials are drawing on the experience of the little Negrito tribal jungle fighters, who say they have had much more luck hunting Huks with their bows and arrows than with rifles.

"No oiling, no misfire and no noise," the bow and arrow advocates point out.

Don't Worry, Mummy

MARTINSVILLE, Va. (AP) — Billy Goins, 5, hurt his foot on a nail. But Billy didn't cry. He knew his mother would be worried. He calmly walked up to his mother, put his arm around her waist and said: "Don't worry, Mummy, everything is going to be all right." Mrs. Marvin Goins isn't worried about Billy—he is all right.

DAILY CRYPTOQUOTE

is L O N G F E L L O W

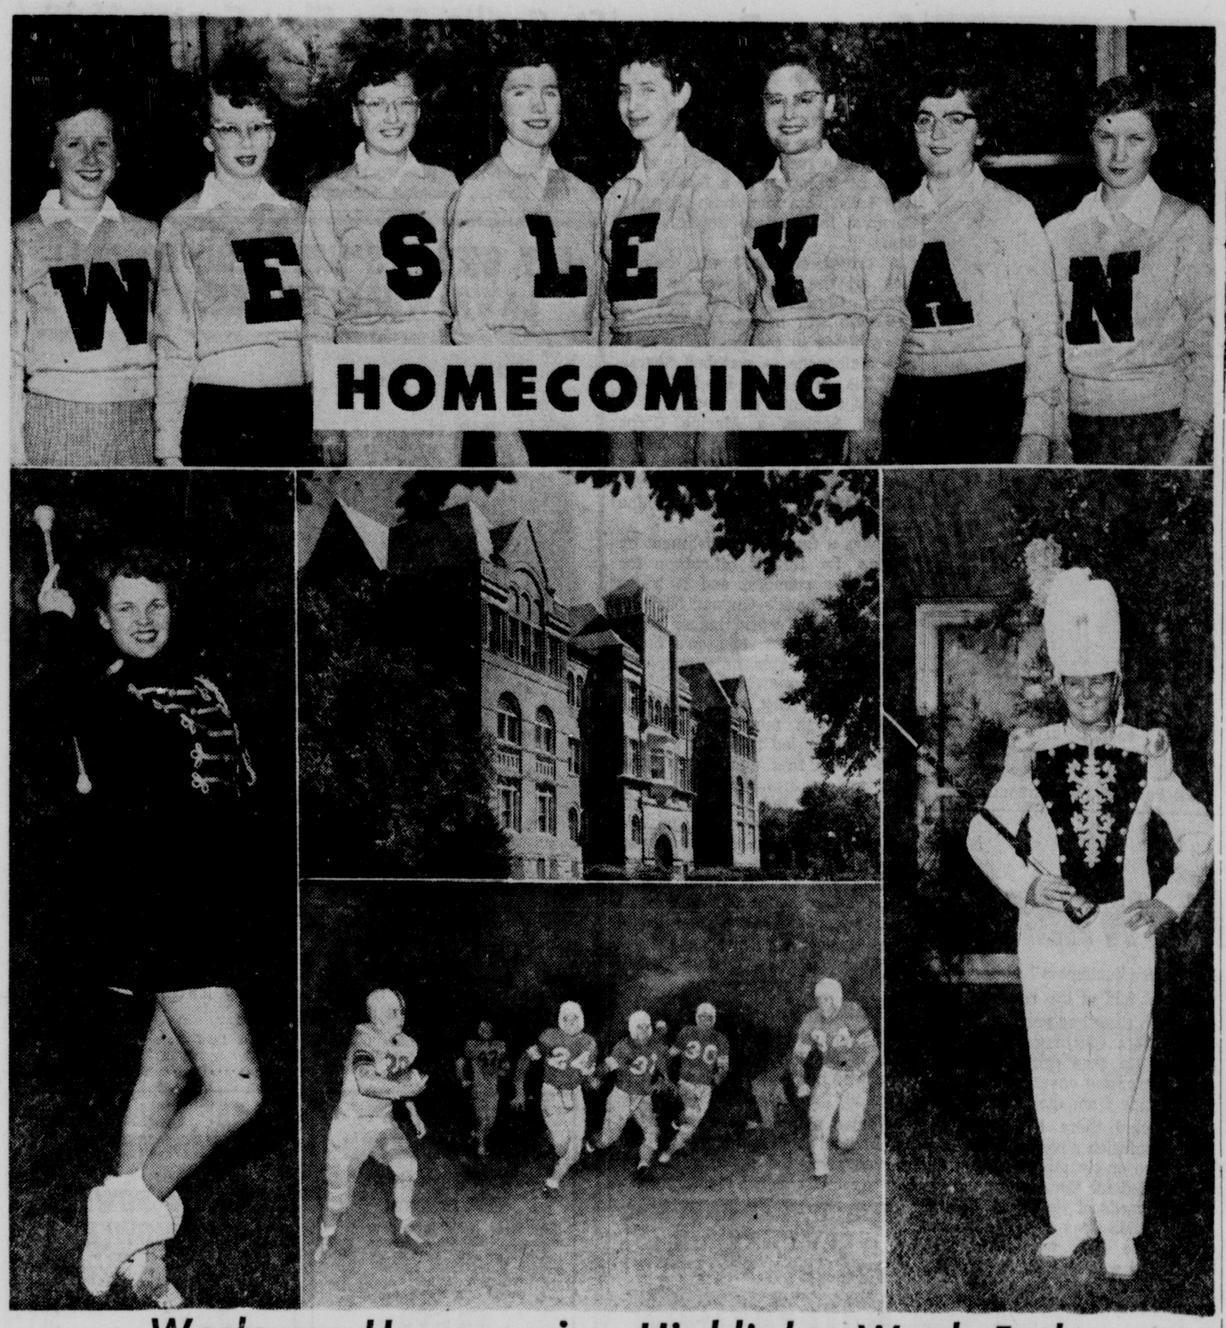

One letter simply stands for another. In this example A is used for the three L's, X for the two O's, etc. Single letters, apostrophes, the length and formation of the words are all hints. Each day the code letters are different.

Wesleyan Homecoming Highlights Week End

The annual Homecoming festivities at Wesleyan University will be previewed tonight at a huge pep rally on the campus and will hit their climax at the Wesleyan-Midland game Saturday afternoon. Eight girls who will be much in evidence during the event are shown above in the sweaters they will wear while marching ahead of the band. The girls are (left to right) Lois Puckett, Atkinson freshman; Ann Rohe, Garland freshman; Marilyn Sundquist, Lyons freshman; Kathryn Thomssen, Aurora freshman; Pat McCaig, Lincoln freshman; Bobbi Organ, St. Paul freshman; Sharon Clark, Norfolk freshman, and Gerry Van Buskirk, Rushville freshman. In center above is Old Main, scene of much of the homecoming activity, and at lower center is a sight old grads are hoping to see —a Wesleyan ball-carrier sweeping past the defense. Two more persons who will play a big part in the events are Shirley Stevens, Polk, head majorette (left) and Gerald Bacon, Hastings, drum major (right).

Pirates May Pick Brown

Meet Slated To Select Branch Rickey Successor

By JOE REICHLER

NEW YORK (AP)—The Pittsburgh Pirates will hold their annual board of directors meeting early next month at which time it is expected that Joe L. Brown, son of the famed comedian, will succeed Branch Rickey as general manager and one of three leading candidates—Fred (Dixie) Walker, Bobby Bragan or Andy Cohen—will be named field manager.

Walker, the former "People's Choice" in Brooklyn a decade ago, currently is in the lead to succeed Fred Haney. The latter was released a day before the end of last season after failing to get the Pirates out of last place in his four years at the helm.

Dixie, adjudged as a good baseball man with a penchant for handling youngsters, has a fine minor league record to recommend him. After finishing his active big league career with the Pirates in 1949, he began a six-year managerial tenure in the minors, serving three years with Atlanta, two with Houston and one with Rochester. He also served under Eddie Stanky as coach of the St. Louis Cardinals.

Walker, older brother of Harry Walker, who was deposed as manager of the Cardinals earlier this month, led his Rochester club to a championship in the International League playoffs last season but lost to the Minneapolis Millers in a seven-game Little World Series. In 1954, his Houston club won the Texas League playoffs but lost to Atlanta in the Dixie Series.

According to a Pittsburgh official, Walker is "very close to getting the job."

Bragan, a teammate of Walker's at Brooklyn, was the original choice to succeed Haney. The former infielder and catcher managed Hollywood, a Pittsburgh farm club in the Pacific Coast League last season. Cohen, also well regarded, once starred as a second baseman with the New York Giants. He did an excellent managing job at New Orleans in the Southern Assn. last season. The Pelicans also are a farm club of the Pirates.

Brown, a protege of Rickey, came to Pittsburgh last year after having served as general manager of the New Orleans club. He appears to have the inside track over Branch Rickey Jr., son of the 74-year-old baseball wizard. Branch Jr. currently heads the Pirates' farm system.

It had been assumed that Junior would replace his father when the latter officially announced his retirement.

"No, I don't think so," said the elder Rickey. "Branch is doing a fine job running the farm system. It's the job he knows best and I want him to stay right there."

The naming of the Pittsburgh general and field managers is strictly up to John Galbreath and Tom Johnson, president and vice-president of the Pirates, respectively, but Rickey felt certain he would be consulted.

North Platte-Scottsbluff Game Tops Grid Schedule

By RON GIBSON
Star Sports Staff Member

North Platte figures to sew up the Big Ten west division crown tonight in a home test with Scottsbluff, a game which feature's the Nebraska high school football schedule.

Should the Platters win, their foe in the post-season playoff will probably be Grand Island. The Islanders must get past Hastings tonight to keep their conference slate clean. Grand Island rates the nod.

Other choices:

Southeast over Tecumseh —First win for Knights.

Beatrice over Fremont — Could be thriller.

Choices in other top games are:

Cathedral over Omaha St. Joseph (Saturday), Omaha Benson over Tee Jay, Norfolk over Columbus, McCook over Sidney, Kearney over Alliance, Curtis over Lexington, Omaha Westside over Valley, Cozad over Holdrege, Ashland over Blair, Bellevue over Wahoo, Grant over Big Springs, Cambridge over Elwood.

Ansley is the pick over Arnold, and it's West Point over Madison, Oakland over Wakefield, Plainview over Pierce, Chadron over Hemingford, Deshler over Wymore, Ord over Ravenna, Hebron over Superior, Mullen over Stapleton, Exeter over Concordia, Crofton over Winside, Diller over Plymouth Ceresco over Beaver Crossing, Campbell over Doniphan.

Four Wins For Local Gridders?

GAMES TONIGHT

Lincoln High	at Omaha South
Southeast	at Tecumseh
Fairbury	at Northeast

(Magee Stadium, 7:30 p.m.)

SATURDAY NIGHT

Cathedral ..... at Omaha St. Joe's

By RON SPEER
Star Sports Staff Member

The autumn weather the past few days has been perfect for football.

And from here it looks as if the Capital City football teams will match the weather and bring home an all-winning record for the weekend.

Four wins by Lincoln teams in the same weekend would be the highlight of the season. The best the local teams have managed to date is a split, two wins and two losses.

Lincoln High and Cathedral travel to Omaha. The Links will engage Omaha South tonight and the Bluebirds tangle with St. Joseph's Saturday night.

Southeast journeys to Tecumseh and Northeast entertains Fairbury in games tonight.

So if the all-winning prediction comes true it will happen when only the Rockets are playing before a home crowd.

Comparing scores with teams that both the Rockets and Fairbury have played proves very little. The Jeffs whipped Hastings 13-7, and Hastings pounded Northeast, 21-0.

But the Rockets trounced Nebraska City, 32-6, and the Jeffs dropped a 7-6 decision to the same team.

Northeast held Beatrice to a 7-7 tie without the services of driving fullback Gene Dittenber. The Jeffs lost to the Orangemen, 19-7.

We are picking the Rockets in a thriller.

Cathedral, barring a surprise, should have little difficulty bypassing St. Joe's. The Omaha club failed to win in their first four starts.

Joe Neal and George Easley swept the ends for good yardage last week, and with Clancy Woolman hammering through the middle we expect the 'Birds to win handily.

The Links' game could be the contest of the week. South, sporting a 4-2 record (one of the losses to the number one team in the state, Creighton Prep) has been an up-and-down team all season.

The Packers, in their first year under Coach Cletus Fischer, slapped Omaha Central, 25-6. Central is the team which handed Lincoln High its opening game defeat, the only blemish on the Links' record.

Southeast, winless in six starts this fall, faces a team which hasn't fared much better in a smaller class. Tecumseh has managed only two wins in '55, at the expense of Pawnee City and Peru Prep.

Wesleyan's Homecoming Plans Ready

Nebraska Wesleyan University was set for 1955 homecoming activities today with an action-packed program on tap for returning alumni and friends.

The program will get underway tonight when students hold their traditional giant bonfire, pep rally and snake dance through the streets of University Place at 7 p.m.

Alumni will be feted at a series of open houses from 8:30 to 12:30 with organized houses set to entertain affiliated students and a Barb-sponsored party in the Student Union set for unaffiliated returnees.

Alumni will hold their semi-annual business meeting in Old Main Saturday morning beginning at 10 a.m. while students are busy arranging house decorations for their traditional decorations contest.

Judging will be done over the noon hour while alumni are being entertained at luncheons in the various campus houses.

The Wesleyan Plainsmen will face Midland college in the big homecoming football game at O.N. Magee Memorial Stadium at 2 p.m Saturday.

The big intermission show will feature the 96 piece Pride of the Plainsman marching band under the direction of Prof. Robert L. Marshall, and long-awaited announcement of the identity of the 1955 "W" Club Sweetheart and winners of house decorations.

Alumni, friends and students will attend a big barbecue dinner in Ira J. Taylor gymnasium following the game. The traditional Pep club-sponsored homecoming dance will be held in the physical education building starting at 9 p.m.

Buffs 'Are Ready'

BOULDER, Colo. (AP) — The Colorado football squad went through a light, no-contact drill Thursday and afterwards Head Coach Dal Ward made this terse comment on Saturday's clash at Oklahoma—"We are ready."

Colorado fans were cheered by word Homer Jenkins, tailback star, had recovered from a bad charleyhorse and would be a starter. He has been held out of scrimmages all week.

Greenlaw, Hewitt To Start; Hilding Lost To Squad

By DON BRYANT
Sports Editor, The Star

Two starting lineup changes for the Missouri game were announced by Nebraska football coach Bill Glassford Thursday as the Husker finished preparations for the Tigers.

Friday morning the 36-man traveling squad will fly in two chartered planes to Columbia, Mo., site of the Saturday Homecoming contest.

Willie Greenlaw, junior halfback from Portland, Me., will open at right halfback for the first time since the Hawaii opener. Greenlaw won his promotion by turning in the best game of this career against Pitt last week.

"Willie's defensive play was exceptionally good at Pitt and he's always been a fine offensive back," Glassford said in announcing Greenlaw's advance.

It was his defensive weakness that cost Greenlaw the starting role, held the past four weeks by Harry Johnson of Valley, but the Husker coaching staff feels Willie has improved enough defensively to rate the nod.

The other change finds Don Hewitt of Des Moines, Ia., taking over the No. 1 right end spot, replacing the injured LeRoy Butherus of Lincoln.

And further damage was handed the end corps Thursday with the announcement that Marlin Hilding, sophomore from Red Oak, Ia., is lost for the season.

Glassford said the Hilding was "retired for the year" because of a painful back ailment.

While the exact nature of Hilding trouble hasn't been determined, despite numerous tests and X-rays, he apparently suffers muscle spasms which cause severe pain and prevent him from bending over.

Hilding failed to report any pain — "He's a tough kid and didn't want to complain," Glassford said — but it was noticed he was having difficulty moving and checks were begun.

"Marlin looked terrific in spring practice, but his back has prevented him from coming along this fall," Glassford said Wednesday.

"We feel it is best for him to give up football for the remainder of the season and try to recover."

Bill said Hilding wouldn't work out any more, but he indicated that the promising soph might be able to report for spring practice.

Hilding's loss reduces the number of available ends to six. They are Hewitt, Jon McWilliams, Dean Lux, Stuart Howerter, Jack Braley and Bill Edwards. Butherus will boost the total to seven when his injured hand heals.

Here's the way the starting lineup for Missouri stacks up:

Hewitt and McWilliams, ends; Bill Hawkins and LaVerne Torczon, tackles; Bill Taylor and Don Kampe, guards; Doran Post center; Don Erway, quarterback; Rex Fischer and Greenlaw, halfbacks; and Geroge Cifra, fullback.

Ready for second-line duty — and probably a lot of action — will be the No. 2 unit composed of the following Huskers:

Braley and Lux, ends; Don Rhoda and Jerry Wheeler, tackles; Jerry Brown and Art Klein, guards; Bob Lyall, center; George Harshman, quarterback; Johnson and Sylverter Harris, halfbacks; and John Edwards, fullback.

Thursday night the squad reviewed its offense and defense against the Missouri spread and passes.

The complete traveling squad:

Centers—Doran Post of Shelton, Bob Lyall of Richland, Wash., Dick Prusia of Franklin.

Quarterbacks—Don Erway of Lincoln, George Harshman of Dickerson Run, Pa., Gordon Englert of Sioux Falls, S. D.

Halfbacks—Rex Fischer of Oakland, Willie Greenlaw of Portland, Me., Sylvester Harris of Kansas City, Mo., Harry Johnson of Valley, Lyle Martin of Grand Island, Frank Nappi of Portland, Me., Eugene Sandage of Sioux City, Ia.

Long String

It's ironic to note that nine members of the Nebraska team were born the last year the Huskers defeated Missouri at Columbia, 1937. The 18-year-old Cornhuskers are Jerry Brown, Leo George, Eugene Haman, Stuart Howerter, Don Kampe, Dick Kleiber, Art Klein, Dick Prusia and Don Rhoda.

And Nebraska has beaten a Don Faurot-coached Tiger team at Columbia only once—1937—Faurot's third year at Missouri.

Tiger Drills Are Complete

COLUMBIA, Mo. (AP) — The University of Missouri polished its defense and its kicking game Thursday as it completed preparations to meet Nebraska here Saturday.

Coach Don Faurot drilled his men only 40 minutes and will give them a day off Friday.

Faurot said he expects to start untried Bill Griep at quarterback against the Cornhuskers and probably will name Pat Fischer to start at fullback, holding Gene Roll in reserve. Bill Hunter, number one quarterback, nursing a charleyhorse, still is not able to play.

Sooners Work Defense

NORMAN, Okla. (AP) — Oklahoma's Sooners worked two hours on defense against Colorado's single wing attack Thursday in preparation for Saturday's game.

Jerry Tubbs, Oklahoma's starting center, remained on the sidelines with an elbow injury, described by trainer Ken Rawlinson as "improving but still very sore." End Delbert Long worked out in sweat clothes as Joe Mobra took his position.

Three Soph Fullbacks

AMES, Iowa (AP) — Iowa State football coach Vince DiFrancesca has three sophomores available for the fullback chores against Kansas State Saturday and was uncertain Thursday which one he would start.

The knee injury suffered by veteran fullback Don Lorenzen in the Missouri game definitely will keep him out of action this week end, the coach said.

The sophomore reserves are Marv Walker, Jerry Donahue and Bill Jensen. Jensen took over for Lorenzen when he was forced out of the Missouri contest.

POINT BLANK

By Don Bryant
Sports Editor, The Star

Last week was tough on the pickers, with numerous upsets and ties dotting the college gridiron scene.

But everyone starts fresh on Saturday afternoon, so there's no reason to shed tears over the fact that the batting average dipped below .700.

Nebraska, with only one win in five outings, travels to Missouri to meet a team that hasn't won a game. And the odds are stacked against the Huskers. Here's why:

1. Nebraska hasn't won at Columbia since 1937.

2. It's Homecoming at Missouri.

3. Tigers will be primed to the hilt and they have one of the nation's top passing combinations in Dave Doane and Harold Burnine.

Dismal as the prospects are, we'll gamble on the Huskers in hopes they may have the stuff to upset the dope.

Big Seven

NEBRASKA 20, MISSOURI 13—Maybe wishful thinking, but it's worth the risk.

OKLAHOMA 28, COLORADO 14—Sooners deflate undefeated Buffs this year. (Nebraska did it in 1954.)

KANSAS STATE 13, IOWA STATE 6—Wildcat line to spell the difference.

SOUTHERN METHODIST 21, KANSAS 7—Jayhawks playing out of their league in more ways than one.

Big Ten

MICHIGAN 19, MINNESOTA 6—Wolverines roll on.

NOTRE DAME 20, PURDUE 17 — Irish bounce back to win close one.

INDIANA 13, NORTHWESTERN 7—Hoosiers rate slight edge.

'Dizzy' Grimsley Sees Michigan, Irish Wins

By WILL GRIMSLEY

NEW YORK (AP) — If the scores appear high and a little on the dizzy side this week, they match the picker. Pardon the aspirin hangover from the rockiest football session of the season.

Our score last week was 27-15, a little better than Notre Dame's, but it reduced the season's mark to 162-54 for .750.

Back on the beam:

Michigan 33, Minnesota 12: The unbeaten Wolverines have Rose Bowl fever. Minnesota, with three defeats, lacks speed of last year.

Notre Dame 28, Purdue 14: It's hard to raise a team after a setback such as the Irish took last week but Notre Dame doesn't lose two in a row.

Rice 21, Texas 14: The Owls bound back from loss to SMU; Texas has lost four of five and can't get out of the habit.

Princeton 21, Cornell 20: The Tigers have lost their ace, Royce Flippin, and the Big Red is without Billy DeGraaf. Princeton by an extra point.

Texas A&M 28, Baylor 20: Bear Bryant has his Aggies fit and fighty. This is a tough conference to fathom but the Aggies should win at home.

UCLA 20, Iowa 6: Despite loss to Maryland, the UCLANS still have one of the country's best teams.

Duke 21, Pittsburgh 7: Pitt has size and depth but Duke has speed and imagination, should win its fifth straight.

Navy 27, Penn 7: It's a 14th straight defeat for Penn, which hasn't won a game since it upset the Midshipmen 9-6 in 1953.

Army 38, Columbia 6: After two straight setbacks, Army gets a chance to collect itself. Columbia has only a passer, Claude Benham.

Southern Cal 19, California 6: Too big and too many.

Maryland 33, Syracuse 12: On a dry field, Syracuse will find Maryland a different team than Army last week.

Oklahoma 21, Colorado 0: A battle of unbeaten teams, but the Sooners simply don't lose in their league.

Wisconsin 31, Ohio State 14: Figure the Badgers to reverse last year's score.

Florida 20, Kentucky 14: The Kentuckians slightly favored but we like Florida's chances anyway.

Miami 28, Texas Christian 21: TCU, upset by Texas A&M last week, has a strong club but Miami should be tough under lights in Miami.

The others:

Clemson Gains 28-14 Victory

COLUMBIA, S. C. (AP)—Quarterback Charlie Bussey steered Clemson to two quick first-period touchdowns, enough to give the Tigers a 28-14 victory over South Carolina in the teams' 53rd State Fair football game before an overflow crowd of 35,000 Thursday.

The teams matched third and fourth-period touchdowns after Clemson at one point had a 21-0 lead.

South Carolina drove 86 yards to the Clemson 5 and 50 yards to the Clemson 16 before losing the ball on downs in the second period, the only period the Gamecocks dominated.

Bussey passed 15 yards to halfback Joe Pagliei, then 55 yards to end Willie Smith for Clemson's first touchdown in a 73-yard march. The next time Clemson got its hands on the ball — a pass interception by Bussey — the Tigers rolled 63 yards to score, Pagliei plunging from the 3. Halfback Joel Wells raced 46 yards from scrimmage to set up the touchdown.

Clemson	14	0	7	7	—28
South Carolina	0	0	7	7	—14

Clemson scoring—Touchdowns: Smith (55, pass from Bussey); Pagliei (3, plunge); Wells (4, plunge); King (1, plunge). Conversions: Bussey 2, King 2.

South Carolina scoring — Touchdowns: McClain (15, end run); Field (4, plunge). Conversions: Silas 2.

Financial Woes Hit Champ

Manager Hassle Cuts Smith's Winnings

CINCINNATI (AP)—The financial troubles which often plague a boxing champion moved in on lightweight titleholder Bud Smith Thursday.

He appeared before the Cincinnati Boxing Commission to collect a check for $9,000 Thursday afternoon with a big smile on his face. He was happy, because he had squeaked out a victory over challenger Jimmy Carter Wednesday night in 15 bruising rounds.

The smile became a bit frozen, however, when sheriff's deputies delivered a court order attaching $6,000 of the Cincinnatian's guarantee from Promoter Sam Becker.

The attachment followed a suit filed earlier in the day in Common Pleas Court by John Joiner, Cincinnati, who claims he is Smith's manager.

Smith said before the fight that he did not know just who were his managers. That statement was made to the commission when he was asked the status of Carmine Graziano and Tony Ferrente, who had been acting as his co-managers.

Ferrente and Graziano are under investigation by the boxing commission in Pennsylvania because of alleged associations with undesirable characters.

It then was decided to make out the check for the Carter fight to Smith.

Joiner claimed Smith signed a five-year contract with him in 1950. Graziano was in Smith's corner Wednesday night.

Willie Ketchum, manager of former champion Carter, collected the little New Yorker's $9,000 from Becker. Each of the boys has a chunk of money—reportedly $9,000 each—coming from the television fund.

Carter went to a doctor Thursday to have his battered right eye treated. It was closed after the eighth round.

The mixup in announcing Smith as the winner over Carter Wednesday night by a split decision, then reversing it and making it unanimous after a re-check of the judges' cards, still had the fans woozy Thursday.

Chip Cain, boxing commission chairman, said the official decision would stand as being unanimously in favor of Smith, despite Judge Joe Blink's assertions that he meant to score Carter as the winner. A recheck of Blink's card showed Smith credited with 143 points and Carter 139.

Blink's card had been announced from the ring as giving both Carter and Smith 140 points. The elderly judge, however, insisted he meant the count to be 144 to 140 for Carter.

The television audience and the 6,693 "live customers" at the fight were not told of the reversal. The television show had gone off the air before Cain told newsmen of the change. He then decided to stop right there, and have no announcement made from the ring.

Cain said there had been too much confusion already, for it took some five or six minutes after the fight ended for them to straighten out the cards of the three judges. Judge Blink was consulted once before the fans were told that Smith had won on a split decision.

Carter, who must take time out for the wounded eye to heal, said he thought he won the fight. He had Smith reeling around the ring in the 13th and ready to drop.

Smith, however, snapped out of it, although, like Carter, the power was gone from most of his punches in the 14th and 15th rounds. The champion won on the lead he built up in the early rounds with sharp hooks to the face and body.

Santee Runs 4:05.2 Mile

NEW YORK (AP) — Gangling Wes Santee got the indoor track in season off to a rushing start Thursday night by whipping to a 1-mile victory 4:05.2 at a mammoth Olympic Carnival in Madison Square Garden.

A crowd of 10,300 who helped kick off the fund drive for next year's Olympic games — about $1,000,000 will be needed to send 500 athletes to the games in Italy and Melbourne — watched Santee and his arch-rival Fred Dwyer, fight it out until the final lap.

Then Santee, a Marine Corps lieutenant, pulled ahead as though he were shot out of a cannon, and won as he pleased by 20 yards. Billy Tidwell was third and Joe LaPierre fourth.

It was a fine accomplishment by Santee, for this is off-season for the indoor runners, and it bodes ill for Denmark's Gunnar Nielsen, who holds the world indoor mark of 4:03.6. In fact, Nielsen's effort is the only faster mile ever run in the garden.

Santee played it cagey and hung back through most of the race, while Dwyer led the pack through a 59-second first quarter, a 2:01.4 half and a 3:03.3 three-quarters. By the time the pack went into the sixth lap, there was no one left in contention except Santee and Dwyer. Little Fred, a GI now, was huffing and puffing while Santee loped along right behind him. It was apparent that Santee could pass Dwyer any time he wished. He did.

Southeast High In Class 'A' As New Enrollment Figures Listed

Nebraska School Activities Association enrollment figures were announced Thursday.

Lincoln Southeast, a new school, is in Class A. The Capital City institution is only two schools away from a spot in Class AA.

New schools in Class A competition in football and track are South Sioux City, Southeast, Plattsmouth and Omaha Westside.

If the NSAA does not revamp its present State Basketball Tournament plans, competition for that sport will be divided into six classes thusly:

Class A—Next 32 schools
Class B—Next 64 schools
Class C—Next 128 schools
Class D—Next 128 schools
Class E—Remainder of schools

Ogallala (174) boys is the biggest school in Class B football and track competition, which includes only Classes A, B, C and D. Oakland (80) is at the top of Class C and 35 is the dividing line for Class D.

Boy enrollment figures for schools in Class AA:

Omaha South	1300	Boys Town	510
Omaha Tech	1170	Hastings	508
Lincoln Central	1138	Scottsbluff	478
Omaha North	910	Lincoln N'heast	469
Omaha Central	857	North Platte	464
Omaha Benson	734	Fremont	379
Grand Island	643	Beatrice	341
Creighton Prep	532	Kearney	327

Class A teams and boy enrollment figures:

Norfolk	276	Curtis	164
Alliance	254	Holdrege	162
Lin. Southeast	249	Seward	161
Fairbury	245	York	158
Omaha Cathed'l	238	Crete	156
Nebraska City	236	Bellevue	155
Sidney	229	Schuyler	143
Columbus	227	Broken Bow	142
McCook	226	Omaha St. Joe	139
Omaha Westside	203	Ord	139
Lexington	201	Blair	132
Plattsmouth	201	Auburn	130
S. Sioux City	201	Gothenburg	128
Falls City	194	Om. Holy Name	126
Ogallala	174	Albion	122
Gering	172	Valentine	119
Coazd	164

In Class AA, only four of hte 16 schools showed by enrollment declines. Lincoln, Omaha Tech, Kearney and North Platte slipped slightly.

Jumping thirty boy students, Wahoo is now classed Class A. The school now has 136 boy students, compared to 106 a year ago. It lifted Wahoo from the Class B ranks.

In six of the 16 Class AA schools do girls outnumber the boys. They are Lincoln (1,138 boys, 1,188 girls); Omaha North (910 boys, 953 girls); Omaha Central (857 boys, 907 girls); Grand Island (643 boys, 650 girls); North Platte (464 boys, 483 girls) and Fremont (379 boys, 429 girls).

Gil Turner Is Favorite

NEW YORK (AP) — Gil Turner of Philadelphia, one down to the "Old" Kid Gavilan, hopes to even the score by beating the "New" Kid Gavilan—Isaac Logart of Cuba—in Madison Square Garden tonight.

The Latin-American rooters hereabouts are calling 22-year-old Logart the "New Gavilan and that's a tough handle for anyone to live up to. So far Ike and the Keed have two things in common—each comes from Camaguey, Cuba, and each wears high, white ring shoes.

This has failed to impress the hardened bookmakers who have installed the more experienced, 25-year-old Turner the 9-5 betting choice.

Right now Turner is ranked 10th among the middleweights while Logart is the ninth-ranking welter-weight. Turner, however, says he is aiming once more at the welterweight title. The windmill puncher scaled 151 pounds in losing a non-title scrap to welterweight king Carmen Basilio in Syracuse Sept. 7 and says he can make the 147-pound welter limit.

Logart has won four of his last five starts. He defeated Jimmy Hackney, Ludgwig Lightburn and Al Wilson and stopped Rocky Casillo. He was outpointed by Virgil Akins, fourth-ranking contender.

Boys Town Foe For Whitehall Opener

The Whitehall grade school touch football team will open its 1955 season Saturday when they play a team from the Boys Town League of Omaha.

The opening contest will be played at the Nebraska Wesleyan field, starting at 10:30 a.m.

WASHINGTON (AP) — Clark Griffith, 85-year-old president of the Washington Nationals baseball club, is in Gerogetown Hospital "for a complete rest."

Irish Draw Fifth Sellout

LAFAYETTE, Ind. (AP) — Notre Dame's football Irish, somewhat deflated by a 21-7 defeat at Michigan State last week, are still college football's greatest drawing card.

They'll play before their fifth straight sellout crowd Saturday in Purdue's Ross-Ade Stadium, whose newly enlarged capacity of 55,050 will be needed for the first time.

Purdue's faithful, like Michigan State's, doesn't turn out to watch Notre Dame games because it admires the Irish, but because it hopes the Boilermakers can beat 'em. They have done it twice in 39-game Notre Dame string in the last five meetings, snapping a 1950, 28-14, and inflicting the only Irish loss last year, 27-14. That broke a 13-game string.

Irish Tackles Hurt

The Notre Dame line, particularly at tackles, has been banged up pretty badly in its early games. The Purdue line, which has yielded less than 100 yards a game to opponent's rushes, is especially strong at tackles, with 244-pound Joe Krupa and 229-pound Dick Murley.

Purdue has won its two recent victories over Notre Dame in the air, with Dale Samuels pitching in 1950 and Leonard Dawson last year. Dawson, crippled before the season started by a broken right thumb, threw three touchdown passes last week in the Iowa tie.

Hunters Must Have Bird Stamp

Atty. Gen. Clarence Beck ruled a person is subject to prosecution if he hunts quail or pheasant without having purchased a stamp required by a law passed by the last Legislature.

Ralph W. Norman of Ord, Valley County attorney, had asked if a person who had purchased a permit prior to the effective date of the law—L. B. 340—were subject to prosecution.

The attorney general ruled, however, that a person not having the required stamp would not be subject to prosecution for "possession alone" of quail or pheasant.

L. B. 340 states a person 16 years or older who had purchased a hunting permit before the effective date of the law "is subject to prosecution if he hunts quail or pheasant . . . if he has not first obtained a stamp" as required by the law.

Better Luck Is Predicted For Hunters

Nebraska pheasant hunters should have better luck this year than last but they will probably have to work and travel to find game."

That was the prediction made by Paul Gilbert, secretary of the State Game Commission.

Gilbert said there "appears to be an abundant pheasant population that is widely scattered over the state. This should lessen the distance most hunters will have to travel to find game."

However, Gilbert warned, actual tracking down of the birds might be more difficult than in the past because of the restriction to afternoon hunting only.

The pheasant season, to start at noon Saturday, is open from noon to sunset each day instead of from sunrise to sunset as last year.

Gilbert said "Many birds will probably be resting in thickly vegetated areas rather than out looking for food, which they do primarily during the morning hours."

Gilbert urged hunters to "cooperate with farmers and receive permission before hunting on their property."

"The pleasure of the hunt, he said, "will depend on whether farmers are agreeable to pheasants being hunted on their property."

Sunday Journal and Star
Brings You the Story of Red Cloud

Chief Red Cloud

"Gateway City to the Republican Valley"

The girlhood home of Pulitzer Prize-winning novelist Willa Cather, locale of historic Indian campsites, county seat of the first county to be organized in the Republican River Valley, possessor of "homespun" industries in the form of a packing plant and large dairy firm, Red Cloud and its 1,800 citizens are the subject of a community portrait in the Oct. 23 Lincoln Sunday Journal and Star.

The Sports Picture
The story of the first day of pheasant hunting; roundup of duck and goose reports in Nebraska and the success — and disappointments — of hunters.
Complete reports of scores and stories of football games around the nation—plus on-the-spot coverage of the Nebraska-Missouri football game at Columbia.

Blonde Ambassador
It's been 2½ years since President Eisenhower stirred a storm of controversy by naming Clare Boothe Luce U.S. ambassador to Italy. There's still some criticism, but the blonde ambassador from Connecticut has also won admiration in one of the toughest of all diplomatic assignments. Here's a closeup of the woman who wrote the play "The Women."

What Is a Lutheran?
First article in a series of three on the Lutheran Church and its doctrines.

Stock Mart Makes Week's Best Rise

NEW YORK (AP)— The stock market in its fifth straight advance Thursday shoved its current recovery movement well above the lows of the reaction that came with the Eisenhower illness.

The market has been gathering strength as it goes, and Thursday it made its biggest and strongest advance in more than a week.

Last Sept. 26 the market broke sharply in one of the most extensive declines in history on news that the President had suffered a heart attack.

That reaction hit bottom last week. Then began a slow and laborious climb back.

The associated Press average of 60 stocks Thursday gained $1.30 at $169.60. At that point it has retracted just about one-third of the decline in the big reaction.

The drive ahead has been based on buying confidence bolstered by higher favorable reports on dividends and profits, higher prices, and on general expansion of industry.

Prices Thursday were up 1 to around 3 points at the best while losses usually were held under a point.

Volume amounted to 2,160,000 shares, best in a week. That compares with 1,760,000 shares traded Wednesday.

The Associated Press average of 60 stocks in gaining $1.30 at $169.60 was boosted along by advances in all three components—industrials up $2.10, rails up 90 cents and utilities up 20 cents.

U. S. Steel was the day's most active issue up ⅜ at 55¼ on 31,000 shares.

It was followed by Curtiss-Wright up ⅛ at 24⅜, Sinclair Oil up 3 at 56, General Motors "when issued" up 1¼ at 46, and Budd Co. up ½ at 22.

The American Stock Exchange was higher on volume of 770,000 as against 710,000 Wednesday.

Heavy Marketing Forces Hogs Down

OMAHA (AP) — Continued heavy marketing Thursday forced the Omaha hog top to the lowest level since Dec. 20, 1944. Butchers declined 25-50 cents as the salable supply measured around 12,000 head. Sows were weak at 25 cents lower.

Slaughter lambs advanced 25 cents under active demand.

Better steers 1,200 pounds down displayed some firmness, but plainer and heavier kinds continued slow with weak undertone. Heifers were about steady.

BOND MARKET

NEW YORK (AP)—Convertible issues advanced to give the bond market a higher tone in quiet trading Thursday.

U. S. Treasury long range securities were firm while intermediates eased in small over-the-counter trading.

The 2½s of 1963 and the Victory 2½s of December, 1972-67, dropped 4-32 each at 97 28-32 and 95 25-32 bid, respectively. The 30-year 3¼s climbed 2-32 at 105 18-32 while the 40-year 3s were unchanged at 100 bid.

Corporate volume amounted to $3,210,000 par value, the same total as Wednesday.

Star performer among the convertibles was Sinclair 3¾s, up 6½ at 126½. Colorado Fuel & Iron 4¾s rose 3½ at 144; Hertz 4½s climbed 1½ as did Bethlehem Steel 3¼s.

American Telephone & Telegraph's new 3⅞ convertible added ⅝ at 127⅜ in fairly active trading.

Rails generally were mixed. Baltimore & Ohio, Chesapeake & Ohio, Missouri-Pacific and "Soo Line" were on the plus side.

Monday Strike Date Set For Bell Workers

OMAHA (AP)—The CIO Communications Workers of America has called for a strike among Northwestern Bell telephone workers for 6 a.m. Monday unless agreement is reached on a new contract before that time.

James Smith, District 7 director of the CIO-CWA, said Thursday the union headquarters has advised all locals in the five-state Northwestern Bell bargaining unit of the strike plans. This would involve about 10,000 employes in Nebraska, Iowa, Minnesota and the Dakotas.

Company spokesmen had no immediate comment.

The union and company have been negotiating on a new contract since July 26.

Wheat, Soys Still On Down Trend

CHICAGO (AP)—Most grains eked out small advances on the Board of Trade Thursday.

But there were two exceptions —soybeans and 1956 crop wheat futures.

It was another dull session of quiet dealings with price changes held within narrow limits.

Wheat closed ⅞ lower to ⅝ higher, corn ⅝-¾ higher, oats ⅛-⅜ higher and rye ½-1⅜ higher.

Soybeans closed ½ to 1 cent lower and lard 23 to 40 cents a hundred pounds higher.

Poultry And Eggs, 'Pocket Money' Here, Booming Business On Coasts

While chickens and eggs remained as the source of the Middle West farm wife's household cash, the industry became big business on both seaboards. That spells out the problem confronting the Middle West and it indicates the solution at the same time, according to Herman I. Miller, Washington, D. C. director of the Poultry Market Service.

Miller discussed changing egg markets to 370 members of the Nebraska Poultry Improvement Association Thursday during their 21st annual convention at the Lincoln hotel.

He said the Middle West would recover its relative position in the egg market by modernizing, specializing and enlarging its egg industry. He referred to Nebraska's recent egg quality law as a "laudable step in the right direction."

"Economy and efficiency improve with volume production which can afford quality facilities and techniques, Miller said. He also warned that sideline production on small scale is meeting with adverse marketing conditions," Miller said.

"Top quality eggs will always enjoy seasonal highs in the market, but general production no longer can expect such fall highs as once prevailed. With volume production, quality controls and improved facilities for preserving freshness the market is flattening out,"

Miller ranked the Nebraska College of Agriculture's recently established market news report as of comparable value to the state's progressive egg quality law.

Nebraska poultrymen heard technical advice from Frank J. Santo, Area Grading Supervisor for the U. S. Department of Agriculture, Des Moines, Ia., on the Midwest shell egg grading program, and they participated in panel studies of egg quality and preservation.

Gould Flagg, head of the inspection division of the Nebraska agricultural department, said that eggs sold at retail in Nebraska have become "vastly better" due to the state's new egg law. To date 2,637 dealers have purchased licenses under the new law and fees will return $33,000 this year to the state for promotion of the egg improvement program. Better returns from refrigerated higher quality eggs are overcoming the program's added costs and techniques.

The convention will close with a full day session Friday.

Wrong Armament

PORT ARTHUR, Tex. (AP)—When cops picked up a man in a tavern, Selina Booker wanted to know how come. He's carrying a pistol, she was told. "Why, I carry a pistol myself in my purse," said Selina. She went along to jail too.

in clinical tests average weight loss 3.6 lbs in first week!

Would you like to lose pounds and inches safely and sanely — without starving yourself and without endangering your health? Then try this amazing scientific way of losing weight without drugs or special diets! You can put it to a test with your own bathroom scales, without risking a single penny. Because, if you don't lose three pounds or more the very first week, the test will cost you nothing!

Why Chewing Gum?

A group of Doctors tested FERGUSON'S FORMULA 71 in both the form of an edible wafer and in a chewing gum. These clinical tests showed a much greater loss of weight with the chewing gum than with the wafer. The explanation is simple: When the formulation is actually chewed, its flavor is carried to the taste buds on the tongue more effectively. These savory and pleasant taste sensations are transmitted to the brain, where they provide appetite satisfaction.

Clinical tests with people who had been overweight for years showed astonishing results with FERGUSON'S FORMULA 71 Chewing Gum. Men and Women in these tests lost an average of 11½ pounds in the first month — without feeling any ill effects and without any special dieting!

Try This Safe 20-Day Test and See for Yourself!

Prove to your own complete satisfaction that this easy, safe, enjoyable way to lose weight may work just as effectively for you as it has for thousands of other people. Try this generous supply of FERGUSON'S FORMULA 71 Special Chewing Gum entirely ON APPROVAL. You have nothing to lose but weight — those unwanted pounds and inches that mar your beauty and endanger your health. Start the FERGUSON FORMULA 71 plan today!

MONEY BACK GUARANTEED IF IT DOESN'T HELP YOU

Harmless Amazing Clinically Tested Discovery

FERGUSON'S FORMULA 71 SPECIAL CHEWING GUM acts on a sound scientific principle that curbs your appetite (cuts down your desire for food). You automatically eat less and naturally reduce your daily intake of calories — without starving yourself.
